FED RAISES INTEREST RATE BY 75 BPS, BIGGEST HIKE SINCE 1994

The widely expected decision comes in the backdrop of inflation soaring to a 40-year high of 8.6% in May

MORE RATE HIKES LIKELY TILL INFLATION COOLS

The latest increase has pushed the benchmark federal-funds rate to a range of 1.5-1.75%. While announcing the decision, the Federal Open Market Committee said it is "strongly committed to returning inflation to its 2% objective" and expects to continue to raise the key rate. The committee expects the Fed's preferred inflation index to rise to 5.2%

WARNS OF GROWING ECONOMIC DISTRESS

- It also warned of a sagging global economy, cutting 2022 economic growth forecast to 1.7% from 2.8% projected earlier
- "Labour market remains extremely tight," said Fed Chairman Jerome Powell. The Fed also cited the Ukraine war and China lockdown policies as sources of additional inflation pressures

Pawar, Mamata, Kharge to evolve Prez consensus

18 Oppn parties attend meet; Rajnath, Nadda begin consultations

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Wednesday fobbed off requests from several parties to become the joint Opposition candidate for the forthcoming Presidential polls, at a two-hour meeting called by Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee here.

Mamata set the ball rolling by proposing his name and getting the concurrence of several others. But Pawar politely declined. The meeting that had representation from 18 Opposition parties urged him to reconsider his decision.

But Pawar sought to put a lid on it, taking to his Twitter handle later to say: "I sincerely appreciate the leaders of opposition parties for suggesting my name as a candidate for the election of the President of India, at the meeting. However, I like to state that I have humbly declined the proposal of my candidature."

The meeting adopted a unanimous resolution to field a common Opposition candidate in the Presidential elections. It decided to tentatively meet again on June 21, informed CPI MP Binoy Viswam. Mamata, Pawar and Congress leader Mallikarjun Kharge were authorised to consult other parties to evolve a consensus on the matter.

With Pawar shutting the door, sources said Mamata suggested the names of National Conference leader Farooq Abdullah and retired diplomat Gopalkrishna Gandhi for consideration as alternative candidates. The suggestion was met with a stony silence, an opposition MP informed.

Kharge said his party has no particular name in mind but will sit with others to play a constructive role to arrive at a consensus if Pawar continues declining the offer. Mamata said she will consult other parties that could not make it to the meeting, like AAP, SAD, AIMIM, TRS and BJD.

Parallelly, BJP leader Rajnath Singh called up Opposition leaders like Kharge, Mamata and SP chief Akhilesh Yadav to build a national consensus on the Presidential elections. He also spoke to JD(U) chief Nitish Kumar. Sources said Opposition leaders sought to know the NDA nominee for the high post. BJP chief J P Nadda, too worked the phones, to reach out to leaders of parties like the BJD, YSR Cong, JD(U), RJD, TRS, DMK and others with whom he is has good rapport.

POLICE ENTER CONG HQ, BEAT UP CADRE? COPS DENY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Congress headquarters here witnessed high drama on Wednesday as the party continued its protest over the questioning of its leader Rahul Gandhi by the Enforcement Directorate in the National Herald case for the third consecutive day.

Party leaders alleged that Delhi Police personnel forcibly entered its headquarters at Akbar Road and thrashed them, posting a video of the incident on Twitter to substantiate their claims. However, the police denied their allegations.

"In an act of absolute goondaism perpetuated by the Delhi Police at the instance of the Modi government, the police today forcibly entered the national headquarters of the Congress here and beat up party workers and leaders. This is patently criminal trespass," Congress chief spokesperson Randeep Surjewala said.

Other senior leaders alleged security personnel misbehaved with women parliamentarians and treated them like 'criminals'. Jothimani Sennimalai, Tamil Nadu MP, released a video appealing to Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla to initiate action against security personnel.

"We were brutally beaten up and assaulted on Tuesday and today as well. Our clothes were torn and shoes were removed. They are taking us to an unknown location. We needed water but the police didn't allow us to purchase water. The security personnel bundled 7-8 women in the bus and treated them like criminals," she alleged.

Detained party leaders such as Sachin Pilot, Amrita Dhawan, Ajay Yadav, Vivek Bansal, Lalji Desai and Srinivas B V were taken to different police stations in Alipur, Narela, Vasant Kunj, Najafgarh, and Burari. Congress demanded that an FIR for criminal trespass be filed, erring police personnel suspended and disciplinary action initiated against them. But the police rejected the charges. P9

5G auctions from July 26; level playing field for firms

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

DECKS were cleared on Wednesday for 5G spectrum auctions to provide services to the public and enterprises both, with the Cabinet approving a proposal by the Department of Telecom for its rollout. A total of 72,097.85 MHz of spectrum with 20-year validity will up for grabs when the auctions begin on July 26.

The Cabinet ignored the demand of telecom operators to reduce the base price of spectrum and not allow private enterprises to have their own 5G network. Analysts believe it will enhance the debt of telcos. Telecom operators had asked for a 90% cut in the reserve price and also urged the ministry not to provide direct 5G network to private enterprises. P9

Council polls: Cong, BJP win one each

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

Basavaraj Horatti

AS the results of two out of four Karnataka Legislative Council seats that went to the polls were declared on Wednesday night, the ruling BJP which won the West Teachers' seat and opposition Congress that won the North West Teachers' constituency were found on an equal footing, while JDS failed to make any mark.

When the reports last came in, BJP candidate Hanumant Nirani was leading against Sunil Annappa Sank of Congress by over 32,000 votes in the North West Graduates' seat. Nirani's supporters, however, were already celebrating as his victory was almost certain. In the South Graduates' seat, Congress candidate Madhu G Madegowda was leading against Ravishankar of BJP in a tough contest and the counting of votes was still underway. The result may go either way, depending on the second-preference votes. BJP, though lost the North West Teachers' seat that it earlier held to Congress, it managed to wrest the West Teachers' constituency from JDS.

For BJP, former Council chairman Basavaraj Horatti won the West Teachers' seat by defeating Basavaraja Gurikara of Congress with a big margin of 4,669 votes. P4

CM pins hopes on suburban rail, PRR to decongest city

Modi to lay stone for railway project next week, says Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a major step towards mitigating Bengaluru's traffic congestion, Prime Minister Narendra Modi will lay the foundation stone for the Rs 15,000-crore Suburban Rail project during his visit to Karnataka next week. The news was confirmed to the media by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday.

Modi will be in Karnataka on June 21 to participate in the International Day of Yoga celebrations in Mysuru.

After inspecting various ongoing projects in the Chickpet Assembly segment, Bommai stressed that the primary focus of his government will be health infrastructure, education and beautification of Bengaluru city.

"Each day close to 500 new vehicles are added to Bengaluru's roads... traffic is swelling. The city needs better connectivity. Hence, the government has cleared the Rs 15,000 crore suburban rail project. The PM will lay the foundation for it next week," Bommai said.

He said the government was committed to constructing the peripheral ring road and tenders for the same will be floated soon. Bommai praised the works implemented by Chickpet MLA Uday Garudachar.

Bommai also inspected the ongoing 'waterway' project in which the stormwater drain running from Majestic to Bellandur Lake is being beautified with parks and other amenities. "This was former CM BS Yediyurappa's vision. Once the project is complete, he will be invited to inaugurate it," Bommai added. Bommai also said that his government has set aside Rs 8,000 crore for the city's development.

At present, the government is focusing on the development of rajakaluves, he said. "Once completed, flooding during the monsoon season will reduce. Once the current monsoon season ends, we will expedite the work," he added.

He further added that the government wants to focus on the revenue pockets of BBMP and is waiting for the Supreme Court's verdict on Akrama-Sakrama.

He also said that Onti Mane scheme, where the BBMP gave financial assistance to the poor to build a house if they owned a site, will recommence soon. "The project took a hit owing to the Covid-19 pandemic. I will soon issue an order in this regard," the CM added.

The CM also inspected the rejuvenated Byrasandra lake developed at a cost of Rs 10 crore. "The CM directed me to expedite other development works at the lake area as this is a lung space for Chickpete," said MLA Uday Garudachar.

On the occasion, five beneficiaries of BBMP's free housing scheme to SCs/STs under 'Aasare' scheme were given house keys by Bommai.

Wait is over! Modi to inaugurate KIA T2 in Oct

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi has consented to declare open the second terminal of the city's Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) in the first week of October. The communication from the Prime Minister's Office was sent to airport operator, Bangalore International Airport Ltd (BIAL) on Wednesday.

According to airport sources, BIAL had requested Modi to do the honours for the Rs 13,000-crore terminal. The exact date will be conveyed by the PMO shortly, a top source said. BIAL authorities had told TNIE recently that the second terminal will be declared open in the final quarter of 2022.

BIAL had recently invited Request for Proposals from qualified and experienced bidders for the inaugural launch event of the second terminal.

With Modi set to formally dedicate to the nation, the suburban railway project and the Sir M V Visvesvaraya Terminal on June 20, the airport terminal will be the third major infrastructure project to be declared open by him for the city. The much-delayed 'garden terminal' is set to boost KIA's passenger capacity by an additional 25 million annually, which is only the phase I of the expansion project. An additional 20 million passengers per annum can travel when phase II is completed.

KIA, the country's third biggest airport had recorded 33 million passengers in 2020 before Covid-19 struck. Labour shortage and flying restrictions shrank patronage.

T2 It will have a total built-up area of 2.54 lakh sqm. All arrivals have been planned on the ground floor while departures will happen on the first floor. A lagoon with a big outdoor garden around it, a multi-modal transport hub, including Namma Metro, solar panels on the roof, artificial waterfalls, elevated walkways and green seating areas are among its special features. While Larsen and Turbo is carrying out construction work, US architectural firm Skidmore, Owings & Merrill is designing T2.

The swanky second terminal is expected to boost Kempegowda International Airport's passenger capacity by an additional 25 million annually

Citizens write open letter to Limbavali on lake statement

ENS @Bengaluru

AS part of their campaign to save Pattandur Agrahara Lake, citizens around the water body — residents of Mahadevapura and members of Namma Whitefield — have written an open letter to Mahadevapura MLA Arvind Limbavali.

The letter criticises Limbavali's statement that the road running across the lake's buffer zone can stay.

Citizens said this was a violation of the National Green Tribunal, Karnataka Tank Conservation and Development Authority, Supreme Court and High Court orders.

They stated in the letter, "We are extremely outraged that a public representative who we have elected is encouraging an illegal road proposal that violates the buffer zone of Pattandur Agrahara Lake and a rajakaluve, a project that violates more than ten different laws and is non-statutory, a project that has already been stopped by authorities and is under investigation by both the Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB) and the Lokayukta for corruption. How can this be permitted? What is most ironic is that he made the statement at a meeting of lake activists called by him. This is not only insensitive and irresponsible, but smacks of pure arrogance. This is not acceptable. We will not accept such behaviour from an elected representative."

The citizens have also started an online petition against the statement

Fake delimitation draft on social media: officials

ENS @Bengaluru

WITH time ticking for the delimitation exercise to be completed, and citizens demanding that the draft be made public, a copy of the delimitation report on 243 wards has been doing the rounds on social media.

Having taken a look at the draft, many netizens have started posting their opinions, but officials from Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike and the Urban Development Department said the document in circulation is fake.

While some citizens said they were unable to download and access the files due to technical errors, others who did said the ward names and reservation was not matching. Some criticised the government for the method adopted for bifurcation, while others also said the file with 243 wards could not be uploaded, and only 198 wards were visible. A BBMP official said: "The UDD has to upload the file, and BBMP has nothing to do with it. UDD has not yet uploaded the list of 243 wards, as the file is with the CMO for finalisation. With time ticking and only eight weeks left, pressure from citizens to make the draft public is rising."

UDD Additional Chief Secretary Rakesh Singh told TNIE that so far, no draft has been uploaded and nothing has been made public.

For a cause: PSI opens mobile public toilets on B'luru-Tumakuru highway

PRAVEEN KUMAR
@Bengaluru

AFTER failing to get a response from the authorities on building a public toilet at Goraguntepalya Junction on the Bengaluru-Tumakuru highway, Sub-Inspector Shanthappa Jademmanavar, who had started an online campaign 100 days ago, opened mobile toilets at the spot on Wednesday.

The toilets were inaugurated by a transgender.

There are 10 toilets — five for men, three for women and two for the transgender community. The sub-inspector got help from some volunteers who funded the mobile toilets.

"Nothing comes for free but the toilets which I set up are for free. Building a toilet costs around Rs 1 lakh. With the help of a few people, mobile toilets were finally opened for the public. One person looks after maintenance and cleaning of the toilets," Shanthappa Jademmanavar, police sub-inspector attached to the Central division, told The New Indian Express.

He started the campaign after his mother faced difficulty in finding a public toilet at Goraguntepalya Junction on the Bengaluru-Tumakuru highway.

He had tagged the local Member of Legislative Assembly and other civic authorities, and was unable to get a response from any of them.

"A transgender, Bhavani, inaugurated the mobile toilets. Transgenders face trouble while using public toilets. Two toilets are exclusively for them. The toilet has been set up despite some objections from locals. We got help from local traffic police," he added.

Shanthappa Jademmanavar is the same police officer whose video of cleaning public toilets in the city had gone viral recently.

16th June: The fact that today is traditionally linked with benevolent Jupiter only enhances current Jupiterian alignments, reinforcing everything that I've said about the virtues of optimism and enthusiasm - but also the risks of laziness, careless risk-taking and complacency.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It's a reasonably emotional day when all is said and done, and you may discover rare strains of sentimentality deep in your astrological psyche. Put family members first, and let friends and colleagues wait their turn. What you need is order, where once there was chaos!

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You should not expect to get your way over a professional matter. If you do succeed, all well and good, but otherwise you should be patient and acept that for any ambition to be fulfilled, the time must be right. There's little to be gained from fighting battles you can't win - and a great deal to be lost.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
You may be inclined to distance yourself from certain events in your past, and in the future you might concentrate more on schemes designed to broaden your horizons. The crucial factor, though, is how much you can really afford. The first step, then, is to count your cash.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
There will definitely be a few emotional ups and downs today, and even the occasional misunderstanding, most likely around midday. Stay on your toes and keep an eye on the beneficial long-term pattern. And don't get too upset by people who pick up the wrong end of the stick.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
There could be a mystery to solve, perhaps a lost possession or mislaid instructions. There could even be an element of farce if other people fail to keep appointments or just generally miss the point! The best advice? Probably to hang on to your sense of humour.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Once in a while you are given a moment to pause, to come up for air and take your bearings. This must be one such time, and if you can possibly work out exactly who is doing what, you'll get a very much better notion of your own future role - and a good thing, too!

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Events which take place now could make you less inclined to count the cost of a relationship which may have lost its glitter. In other words, be thankful for what you have, and don't expect people to be things they're not! Sometimes happiness flows from appreciating what you've got.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There are no simple solutions. However, you can ensure that others take you at your word, and give you the necessary backing. The emotional situation at the moment could be rather fraught if you fail to notice that partners require ten times the normal dose of affection.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You have learnt many harsh lessons in the past, but now you must learn the hardest of all - to trust other people. Fortunately, the emotional issues seem to be slight, so only practical matters need to be faced. Partners will appreciate a businesslike approach.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Your chart is like a maze, and it's all a question of finding your way to the heart of the matter. For reasons best known to yourself you appear to be caught between two emotional choices. These seem to relate to family members rather than friends or lovers, and the solutions are right under your nose!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
An opportunity which materialises some time over the next few weeks could enable you to make a completely fresh start. The absolutely vital point now is to talk about all your plans, even at the risk of being thought silly. If partners don't understand you, that's their problem!

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You are in a creative mood and, both at work and at home, you should find ways to enjoy even the dullest activities. If you are considering new purchases or investments, keep talking and check the facts. You'll be in a much stronger position if you actually know what's going on.

Doctor jumps from 11th floor of apartment

Married 3 months ago, was ailing from heart disease

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A 31-year-old doctor pursuing his postgraduation at Victoria Hospital reportedly died by suicide by jumping from the 11th floor of the Godrej Woodsman Estate apartment, where he was staying with his newly married wife. The couple got married just three months ago.

The victim is said to have sent a WhatsApp message to his family members seeking their forgiveness for his decision. The family told the police that he was upset over his heart ailment and after learning that it could not be cured, he might have taken the extreme step. The jurisdictional Amruthahalli police have registered a case and are investigating.

The victim, Prithvikanth Reddy, hailed from Kadapa in Andhra Pradesh. The victim's wife is also a doctor. The couple was staying in a flat on the 11th floor. The incident happened around 5am on Wednesday. Immediately after, Reddy's wife informed her parents-in-law who reside in Kadapa. The body was shifted to the Ambedkar Medical College and Hospital for the postmortem.

"The victim's family said he was upset over his heart ailment. He had even said there was no point in him living and becoming a burden on everybody when there was no cure for his heart disease. There is no handwritten death note, instead there is a WhatsApp message sent from the victim's phone," said an officer who is part of investigations.

The victim had reportedly not gone to the hospital for the last five days.

"Prithvikanth Reddy was studying Doctorate of Medicine in the Neurology Department. According to his department's HoD, Reddy was a good student and nobody, including his friends, had any clue about his health. He had not told anyone about his illness. His death is unfortunate," said Dr Ravi K, Director-cum-Dean, BMRCI.

Man kills self, wife arrested

A 42-year-old man died by suicide allegedly due to humiliation by his wife and her parents for not getting a good pay. He hung himself with his wife's veil from the ceiling fan. The victim is said to have been mentally disturbed as he was repeatedly belittled by his wife in public. The victim also cried in front of his kin over the harassment. Following a complaint by his kin, the wife along with her parents have been arrested. The KR Puram police identified the deceased as Gururaj Hegde, a resident of Gayathri Layout in KR Puram. The accused are identified as DB Suchitra, wife of Hegde, and her parents. The accused have been booked for abetment to suicide.

ELDERS' HELPLINE: 80% OF CALLS ARE OF ABUSE

Elders attend an awareness session at the police commissioner's office on the World Elder Abuse Awareness Day,in Bengaluru on Wednesday | VINOD KUMAR T

STATISTICS released by Nightingales Medical Trust, an NGO working for the well-being of the elderly, and Bengaluru City Police, one in five elders has been through some type of abuse, with a high number from urban areas.

The Covid-19 lockdowns, which forced people to stay indoors, nuclear families and several other reasons seem to have drastically increased abuse against elders.

Releasing statistics for World Elders' Abuse Awareness Day, Dr Radha S Murthy, co-founder and managing trustee of Nightingales Medical Trust, said, "Eighty per cent of the complaints received from senior citizens on the Elders' Helpline are related to abuse -- 23.7 per cent on physical abuse, 77.3 per cent on emotional and verbal abuse, 26.7 per cent on financial exploitation, and 52.60 per cent were on neglect," she said.

The day also marked 20 years of Elders' Helpline (1090), set up for elders in distress, a joint project of Nightingales Medical Trust and Bengaluru City Police.

Dr Murthy said that in the past 20 years, they received 2,35,541 calls in Bengaluru, including 8,419 calls on harassment and cheating. While 4,176 calls were by family members, 1,868 were by private and public agencies, and 2,375 calls by individuals; 433 calls were on missing elders, 93 were complaints against old age homes, 1,646 were on problems like health, financial insecurity, psychological concerns, and 43,572 calls were for information on pension and others.

Though there was an increase in abuse during the lockdown, elders couldn't come out to lodge complaints in person, Dr Murthy said. A booklet 'Senior Citizens: Be Safe and Cautious', giving information on precautions to be taken, especially with regard to cybercrimes, was released at the event.

Director for empowerment of differently-abled and senior citizens, K S Latha Kumari said, "Youngsters must make use of elders' rich experience, maturity and wisdom, and see them as a support system...," she said.

Psychiatrist Dr C R Chandrasheakar said that 50 per cent of elders do not receive nutritious food, 80 per cent above 65 years suffer from diseases which can be prevented, including heart disorders, diabetes and others. "Elders must not worry or get frustrated, they must accept reality. If they can keep their mind active and stay active, they can prevent Alzheimer's and dementia," he said.

Horatti wins record 8th term on own popularity

MLC Basavaraj Horatti receives the official certificate from Returning Officer Amlan Aditya Biswas after his victory in Belagavi on Wednesday | EXPRESS

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

VETERAN politician Basavaraj Horatti created a unique record in the state legislature, winning eight MLC elections in a row. He achieved the rare feat with his win from North West Teachers' constituency on Wednesday, defeating his nearest rival, Basavaraj Gurikar, by 4,699 votes.

At the end of counting of ballots at Jyoti College, Belagavi, on Wednesday, Horatti of the BJP polled 9,266 first preferential votes, against 4,597 polled by Gurikar of the Congress.

Horatti (76) served as Chairman of the Legislative Council for 14 months, starting in February last year, and switched to the BJP recently. He was with the JDS for several years and carved a niche for himself in North West Teachers' constituency, where he has won on his individual image and popularity, rather than his party symbol. Horatti had served as Legislative Council Chairman for six months in 2018, as a JDS member.

After his victory, Horatti said he had expected to win about 9,000 votes, but ended up winning more. He thanked the teachers for reposing faith in him, and said he would continue to work for their welfare. "It is unfortunate that more than 1,000 votes cast by teachers were termed invalid. I feel ashamed to see such votes -- while some voters have signed strangely on the ballot papers, others have scratched with pens," he said.

Asked whether his defection to the BJP helped him, Horatti said that in the last last election, his BJP rival had got a considerable number of votes. "The votes cast in favour of the BJP last time got added to my tally this time. That's why I was able to cross 9,000 votes," he added.

To a question whether he would continue as Legislative Council chairman or would like to join the state cabinet, Horatti said he was not clear about the upcoming developments, and the matter was best left to the BJP. The party had not given him any kind of assurance, he said.

"I have been pressing the government for the appointment of more teachers, and will continue to do so. I held a meeting with the CM when I was Council Chairman but the process of appointments got delayed due to the Covid crisis. The government has assured me it will be taken up soon," he said.

Counting on for two seats

THE 76-year-old leader, who won the seat from JDS last time, contested from BJP this time and romped home with his eighth consecutive victory from the seat. Veteran Congress leader Prakash Hukkeri drubbed young Arun Shahapura of BJP, who was on a hat-trick, by winning the North West Teachers' seat by a huge margin of 5,055 votes.

The South Graduates' seat, comprising voters of Mysuru, Chamarajanagara, Mandya and Hassan districts, witnessed an intense fight between BJP's MV Ravishankar and Congress' Madhu Madegowda and the results are likely to be out on Thursday. Though Horatti's victory came as a shot in the arm for Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, the loss of North West Teachers' seat to Congress came as a jolt in the constituency that comprises the electorate from Belagavi, Vijayapura and Bagalakot districts.

If not for Horatti, the saffron party would have lost even the West Teachers' seat. Bommai's efforts to rope him in after convincing Union Home Minister Amit Shah paid off as Horatti's victory is a face-saver for the chief minister in his home district of Haveri.

JDS, which fielded candidates in three constituencies except in the North West Graduates, failed to make any impact.

Shahapur fails to score hat-trick

Belagavi: Two-time BJP MLC Arun Shahapur failed to score a hat-trick as he lost to Congress' Prakash Hukkeri in the election to Legislative Council from North West Teachers constituency on Wednesday. At the end of counting of ballots, Shahapur had managed to poll 6405 votes against 11,460 votes of Prakash Hukkeri. Peeved over failing to make it for the third straight term, Shahapur attributed his loss to the massive expense of money by his rivals and political conspiracy. The BJP leadership had campaigned extensively for Shahapur for the last few months in the constituency which comprises voters (teachers) from Belagavi, Vijayapura and Bagalkot districts.

BJP hopes to cash in on Modi charisma

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi, who is visiting Karnataka on June 20 and 21, will be on an inauguration spree, and will lay the foundation stone for many projects in Bengaluru. Primary among these is the Rs 15,000-crore Suburban Rail project, for which the tender process is almost complete. He will lead the Yoga Day event in Mysuru on June 21.

With BBMP elections round the corner, the BJP hopes that Modi will attract massive crowds. "The Prime Minister continues to draw large crowds wherever he goes, and the crowds seem to be getting bigger. We recently saw massive crowds in Chennai in Tamil Nadu, and Hyderabad in Telangana, when he visited those states. With BBMP polls coming up, and Assembly elections just months away, we too will gain maximum benefit from PM Modi's visit,'' Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai reportedly told senior party functionaries and leaders at Gayatri Vihar on Palace Grounds on Wednesday.

Recalling the large crowds in Chennai, he said this could signal major changes in Tamil Nadu in the Lok Sabha elections, as surmised by some political analysts. BJP leaders who participated in the meeting included senior party functionaries, former ministers, sitting and former legislators and heads of boards and corporations, who will be given various responsibilities.

The Prime Minster, who will land at Yelahanka, will visit the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) campus to inaugurate a facility, and also lay the foundation stone for a new building. He will arrive at IISc by road from Yelahanka, and thereafter, will take a chopper ride to Kommaghatta to ensure there are no traffic snarls. There, he will lay the foundation stone or inaugurate six new railway projects. He is expected to participate in the inaugural of five new projects which are part of the National Highway, including a ring road connecting Bengaluru and Dabaspet, and to decongest Bengaluru. Modi will travel to Ambedkar Institute by road, and later take the road to Mysuru, Bommai said.

BJP supporters will line the roads to welcome Modi in Yelahanka, Byatarayanapura, Malleswaram and Hebbal, as he drives to Malleswaram from Yelahanka.

Ex-minister Seetharam, son Raksha Ramaiah to give Cong a jolt soon?

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

> They gave my son the IYC national general secretary post reluctantly and only four months after he sacrificed his state Youth Congress president post to another leader
> – MR Seetharam, former minister

DESPITE the Congress high command's attempts to placate former minister MR Seetharam by appointing his son Raksha Ramaiah as the general secretary of Indian Youth Congress (IYC), there are signs that the educator could desert the party ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections.

Seetharam is miffed that he was not picked as one of the two MLCs, who were nominated by the strength of the party in the Assembly. The party instead chose minority wing president Abdul Jabbar and spokesperson Najaraju Yadav. Though the party tried to convince him to contest the 2023 Assembly election from Malleswaram, he is not willing to take up that offer, sources said. "No one from Congress, who has any association with Malleswaram, wants to contest from here. Seetharam too does not want to become a political martyr," they added.

Having sensed that BJP was trying to woo Seetharam, Congress tried to checkmate the ruling party by appointing Raksha as the Youth Congress secretary on June 3.

But now, the 66-year-old educationist, who runs some of the most prominent institutions built by his late father MS Ramaiah, is planning to shake up the Grand Old Party by hosting a convention of his supporters at the Palace Grounds on June 24. He said it is to elicit the response of his followers, who will also come from Chikkaballapura district, where the population of Balija community, to which he belongs, is considerable.

Sources said BJP is trying to pitch the plan of fielding him from the Chikkaballapura Lok Sabha seat in 2024 and Raksha from the Bagepalli Assembly seat in the 2023 polls. The disgruntlement of the father-son duo is obvious as they skipped the Congress protest against ED summons to party leaders Sonia and Rahul Gandhi.

Making his intentions clear, Seetharam has distributed handbills which state that some vested interests within Congress were hatching a conspiracy against him. He also listed his contribution to the party since late Rajiv Gandhi was the prime minister. He pointed out that he won the Malleswaram seat for the party in 1999 and 2004. But since the 2008 Assembly polls, these vested interests started snubbing him.

He also mentioned how he was ignored for the MLC seat during the recent nomination. "Despite the state leadership proposing my name, it was dropped overnight," he said.

It is known that Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah is on good terms with Seetharam and had backed his candidature. He is also in the good books of opposition leader in the Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge.

Seetharam said that though he had prepared well to contest the 2009 Parliamentary election from the Chikkaballapura Lok Sabha seat, he was denied a ticket at the last minute because of the intervention of these elements.

Seetharam told TNIE that recent developments in the party did not go down well with him. "They gave my son the IYC national general secretary post reluctantly and only four months after he sacrificed his state Youth Congress president post to another leader," he remarked, adding that he will make his political move after the June 24 meeting of his supporters.

Congress to take out 'Raj Bhavan Chalo' rally today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CONGRESS leaders of Karnataka will lay siege to Raj Bhavan on Thursday protesting against the Enforcement Directorate (ED) action against senior party leader Rahul Gandhi and the Delhi police arresting the party leaders.

Addressing a joint press conference on Wednesday, state Congress president D K Shivakumar and opposition leader Siddaramaiah said the party leaders, including MPs and MLAs, will take out a 'Raj Bhavan Chalo' protest rally from the party office at 10 am.

Shivakumar said they are protesting against the vindictive politics and the misuse of central agencies. "Rahul Gandhi was questioned for three days when the inquiry could have been completed within two to three hours. This is a conspiracy to silence the Congress leaders," Shivakumar said.

The Congress workers are not scared of cases and going to jail and they will continue to protest against injustice, he added.

Siddaramaiah said the current situation in the country is worse than British rule and they will continue to protest against it till the Centre stops misusing agencies for political vendetta. On Friday, the party will stage protest demonstrations in all districts.

"It is like an undeclared emergency. Never in the history of independent India, not even during the emergency, we have seen such a situation," he said. "We are ready to go to jail, but you can't stop us from protesting," Siddaramaih said.

Earlier in the day, Shivakumar appeared before a city court in Bengaluru in a case related to violation of the Covid-19 guidelines during the party's padayatra demanding that the government start work on the Mekedatu Balancing Reservoir project.

Speaking to media persons after coming out of the court, the Congress leader accused the state government of harassing opposition leaders and not taking any action against BJP leaders, including ministers, who violated the Covid-19 guidelines.

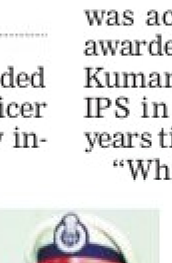
Yediyurappa informed that he will visit one district every week to organise the party's ranks and files ahead of the 2023 assembly polls.

LONG KHAKI CAREER

Forest brigand Veerappan's nemesis, Shankar Bidari, inspires doctoral thesis

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru



THE nemesis of the dreaded Veerappan gang, police officer Shankar M Bidari, has now inspired a doctoral thesis.

The former DGP and Police Commissioner is much remembered for his anti-Veerappan operation and has inspired a scholar to do a study on 'Karnataka State Police Organization and Administration: Shankar M Bidari's contribution, a study' for his doctoral dissertation from Mysuru University.

The study, which was completed after three-and-a-half-years, was accepted and a PhD was awarded to the scholar, Naveen Kumar MB. Bidari joined the IPS in 1978 and served for 34 years till his retirement in 2012.

"While it is true that no police officer here has inspired a PhD thesis until now in Karnataka, what is interesting is that even years after he retired, Bidari's brave and proactive policing continues to inspire. That a scholar has taken years to study Bidari's unsurpassed contribution to policing is heartening,'' said another celebrated police officer, DCP (retd) B M Poonacha, who had worked with Bidari's team in the MM Hills.

Bidari is best known for demolishing the dreaded brigand Veerappan gang and bringing down the gang numbers numbers from 200 to just five men.

Bidari handled among the most difficult assignments during his career and is remembered for keeping Ballari free from communal incidents as SP when the Babri Masjid was brought down and most of Karnataka's districts reported massive communal flareups.

He was among the most highly decorated officer and has been awarded the gallantry medal twice which again is a historical first.

The State Government has released Rs 15 crore for asphalting of roads and Rs 6 crore for the yoga event.

The Corporation is spending the funds on beautification of junctions, fixing new streetlights and other works, said MLA SA Ramdas.

Kerala CM, family tried to strike biz deal with Sharjah ruler: Swapna

Alleges Pinarayi sought help from ruler to help daughter Veena set up IT hub in UAE

P RAMDAS @Kochi

THE affidavit submitted in the Special Court for Prevention of Money Laundering Act cases by gold smuggling accused Swapna Suresh contains damning allegations against Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan and his family, indicating that his wife Kamala and daughter Veena were involved directly in negotiations with the Sharjah ruler in September 2017.

Swapna's affidavit, accessed by TNIE, said the CM requested the UAE consul-general to have a one-on-one meeting with the Sharjah ruler during his visit to Kerala. "The CM offered the opportunity to the Ruler (Sultan bin Muhammad Al Qasimi) to make investments in Kerala, and, in turn, Kamala and Veena requested the ruler to make arrangements for Veena to invest and develop the IT hub in Sharjah," the affidavit said. The entire event played out when the ruler visited Cliff House on September 26, 2017.

In the affidavit, Swapna stated, "Prior to the visit, myself and the consul-general were invited by (M) Sivasankar to Cliff House so as to discuss the Sharjah ruler's visit. In that meeting, the CM, Sivasankar, CM's wife and daughter and Nalini Netto IAS were present. Thereafter, Sivasankar again requested me to meet the CM and his family at Cliff House for another meeting. In that meeting also, the CM, his family and Nalini Netto along with Sivasankar were present. Then, Kamala and Veena requested me to make sure the consul-general's assistance to get the princess and the Sharjah ruler in their control and (let them) take control of the IT hub in Sharjah. Madam Kamala told me that she was ready to give huge quantities of gold jewellery and diamonds as a reward to His Highness and his wife in return for this help. But I told her that they would not accept such presents because they are the king and queen of Sharjah."

Swapna had taken Kamala and Nalini along with her to receive the ruler. On reaching the hotel room, Kamala tried to discuss the business proposal with the ruler's wife. The latter got annoyed. "The ruler's wife ended the meeting and told me to take Kamala and Nalini Netto out of the room," said Swapna.

Apart from the police, commando officers and jawans have been searching for Singh since Sunday morning after a police complaint was filed.

"We have found his bicycle in front of Vaishali Kitchen. However, he is still missing and the Commando Wing, along with his family, is concerned," an Army official said. Public have been urged to call on 9899217518 if they have any information on Singh.

Speaking to TNIE, PV Sneha, Deputy Commissioner of Police, said the police are investigating the matter. Meanwhile, the Commando wing has decided to give a cash reward of Rs 50,000 to anyone who informs about the whereabouts of Subedar Major Singh.

BENGALURU: A native of Texas, US, was held at KIA on Wednesday evening for carrying live ammunition used in a cowboy assault rifle in his hand baggage, while boarding a domestic flight. It was detected when his baggage was screened by security forces in the airport. He was a part of a team of 15 people heading to Kolkata on an AirAsia flight, for an official meet. He did not have a copy of a valid gun licence in hand to carry the ammunition, as mandated by airport rules here. He had a copy of his driving licence and was explaining to police that the document was enough to carry a gun in his country. He told Airport police that the bullet was used in his .30-30 cowboy gun (.30-30 Winchester) for hunting in Texas nearly two years ago, and the bullet was left behind in his bag inadvertently. ENS

When NDRF snatched Rahul from the clutches of death

ASISH MEHTA @Bhubaneswar

THE 104-hour-long operation to save 11-year-old Rahul Sahu from a 70-ft deep borewell in Chhattisgarh has put the spotlight on the brave jawans of the Odisha-based 3rd National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) Battalion who helped the neighbouring state achieve the almost impossible feat.

They have earned praises from not just the Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel, Janjgir-Champa Collector Jitendra Kumar Shukla but also each and every citizen of the country who watched the rescue operation with bated breath for the last five days.

Differently-abled Rahul (speech and hearing impaired) had fallen into the unused borewell in the backyard of his house while playing in Pihrid village on Friday afternoon. The 11-year-old braveheart remained alert throughout the 5-day ordeal, and so did the 10-member team of NDRF's 3rd Battalion from Mundali, Cuttack, who did not even steal a wink during the operation which lasted till 11.57 pm on Tuesday.

Counted as one of the toughest rescue operations from a borewell in recent times in the country, it was jointly carried out by the NDRF Battalion, Indian Army, local police, Chhattisgarh's State Disaster Response Force and Janjgir-Champa district officials. The NDRF personnel, who played an important role in digging a parallel tunnel and pulling Rahul out, said the mission was extremely challenging as he has developmental disabilities. "Rescue teams were offering him ORS, bananas, juices and checking on him regularly if his response was normal," said a member of the team.

11-year-old Rahul is pulled out of a borewell by NDRF personnel on Wednesday

Faced with a herculean task of saving Rahul, the district officials contacted 3rd NDRF Battalion in Mundali on Friday evening. Chhattisgarh and Odisha come under 3rd NDRF's area of responsibility. The battalion has a regional rescue centre (RRC) in Chhattisgarh's Bhilai.

After receiving the information, at least 20 NDRF personnel left from the RRC and reached the spot at about 11.58 pm on Friday. The rescue teams used ropes to find out the depth of the unused borewell which was dug up to 80 feet about two to three months back and was left uncovered due to unavailability of water. They realised that the borewell's depth was reduced to about 70 feet as sand fell into it through its opening. The personnel used a CCTV camera and were able to ascertain that Rahul was alive.

Subsequently, another 10-member team from Mundali with expertise in carrying out rescue operations inside borewells was called in. Led by Commandant Vardhman Mishra, second-in-command of 3rd NDRF Battalion, reached there at 7 am the next day.

Initially, they used a rope with a hook to pull the boy out from the borewell but a frightened Rahul did not respond. They said he was lying at the bottom of the borewell having a radius of 20 to 40 inch. On Saturday, a team of robot specialists from Gujarat was roped in for the rescue operation but they too, failed in the mission.

The NDRF personnel then chalked out an alternative plan to dig a tunnel parallel to the borewell, an arduous task at hand considering the hilly nature of the region. After two days, they managed to dig a 70-feet tunnel and reached Rahul on Tuesday night.

Rahul was immediately rushed to Apollo Hospitals in Bilaspur where his condition is stated to be stable now.

K'taka tops in acquiring tech skills

ENS @Bengaluru

WITH Karnataka focussing on raising a skilled workforce as well as technology, the Global Skills Report has found that the state is among the top in India in acquiring digital skills, especially in technology and data science. India is one of the fastest emerging countries in terms of technology skills acquisition, the report, released by Coursera said.

India's interest in acquiring technical proficiency had increased by eight points, reaching almost 50 per cent. Coursera, an online course provider, assessed trends among its users across the world, and found that states in South India fared better in rankings when it came to learning skills in the fields of business, technology and data science.

"The Great Resignation and automation are mandating stronger investments in human capital, as institutions must prioritise developing high-demand digital and human skills required to build a competitive and equitable workforce," Coursera CEO Jeff Maggioncalda said about the report. This bodes well for the state, as Karnataka Higher Education Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan has spoken about the National Education Policy 2020 allowing for Karnataka and India to take advantage of the large population and convert it into a skilled resource. "Strong industry-academia-government collaboration, that focuses on rapid deployment of high-quality digital and human skills training, would be key to ensuring that the Indian workforce remains resilient and competitive amid rapid technological transformation," said Raghav Gupta, India and APAC managing director for Coursera.

"OTHERS, who return to civilian life, will have opportunities to become entrepreneurs as approximately Rs 11 lakh 'Seva Nidhi' (severance package) will be paid to them. They can also pursue higher studies or join other employment," Air Marshal Manavendra Singh said.

The Ministry of Home Affairs has already announced that priority will be given to Agniveers in the recruitment of staff to Central Armed Police Forces. On the scheme drawing criticism from various quarters, including defence veterans, he said, "The times have changed now and there is no one way of doing things. There will be no compromise on the quality as there is no scope for failure in the armed forces."

Asked why the scheme is not being implemented on a pilot basis, he said, "A trial is carried out when one is unsure of the results. We are quite sure of the outcome of these recruitments."

'Higher appreciation for science in India than last yr'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A GLOBAL survey has found an increase in appreciation of science and scientists in India over last year.

The 2022 State of Science Index (SOSI) by 3M, the American multinational conglomerate corporation which conducted the survey from September to December 2021, surveyed around 1,000 adults from the general population in India and found that over 90 per cent of the respondents expressed an appreciation for science and scientists.

A majority of respondents said science positively affected their lives and felt it contributes towards solving problems presented in the pursuit of sustainability, health and STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) equity.

Sustainability was also a major point of interest with respondents feeling that climate change was likely to separate or cause the loss of a loved one.

In this direction, compared to last year, the respondents felt that sustainability and lower waste generation must be made a priority to address the issues caused by climate change.

Over 90 per cent of respondents felt that they would be displaced due to extreme weather conditions caused by climate change.

Overall concerns on climate change had intensified over the last year as well, with air pollution and concerns on clean water being some of the more pressing issues they worried about.

This also meant that many felt priorities needed to be set on figuring out how to collect and save water from rainwater and fog.

However, the survey also found respondents believing that misinformation on science was widespread and posed a threat to the credibility of scientific research. Over 80 per cent believed this was spread through traditional and social media.

Over half of the respondents believed that the prevalence of misinformation could lend itself to more public health crises and a greater division within society.

Social media emerged as the bigger villain with 85 per cent attributing the misinformation to be more widespread because of it while for traditional media it was 72 per cent.

However, for scientific facts 75 per cent of the respondents were in favour of believing the traditional media while social media got just 44 per cent who believed in it coming to science facts.

QUESTIONS GALORE IN KCR'S NATIONAL PARTY QUEST

The cat may soon be out of the bag. For now, it is a steady stream of calibrated leaks from the TRS that Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao is contemplating announcing the formation of a party at the national level. Ever since this piece of information trickled out of Pragati Bhavan, the rumour mill has been working overtime on its purpose and constitution. In fact, KCR himself had indicated in the recent past about an upcoming "sensational news". Was he alluding to this development?

Dropping hints and letting speculation run riot is par for the course with the TRS chief. That KCR is keen on playing a major role at the national level is a given. He tried his hand at crafting a coalition of anti-BJP and anti-Congress parties ahead of the 2019 Lok Sabha polls but with Narendra Modi emerging like a supernova in the election, he got nowhere. Now, KCR wants to script an effective political and economic alternative to Modi's Hindutva ideology. If better utilisation of the country's natural resources is his economic agenda, stopping the BJP in its tracks from "spreading vile" through Hindutva rhetoric, is his stated political objective.

It is not yet clear how he intends to take forward his anti-BJP and anti-Congress agenda. It is assumed that the vehicle would be a consortium of an eclectic body of people, comprising politicians, experts in different fields, NGOs, and retired civil servants. There are also reports that KCR's new initiative is just a straight and unalloyed national-level political party, said to be called Bharatiya Rashtra Samiti (BRS). If it is a political party, it sure will be a challenge for him to spread his wings in other states.

What is clear is that KCR is trying to project himself as a man to reckon with at the national level in the fight against the BJP. His success in pursuing his Delhi dreams would depend on whether other opposition parties would play ball as many of them are with the Congress. If they do not, which is more likely, KCR would end up splitting the Opposition vote.

LOOKING AHEAD, NOT BACK, IN TEXTBOOK ISSUE

BJP national general secretary C T Ravi's statement on June 11 that the school textbook revision in Karnataka is just "repair work", pending a full-fledged revision, raises concerns about what the end result of such an exercise could be. The concerns do not exclude its influence in other BJP-ruled states, which are known to often pick leaves out of each other's books.

Ravi was speaking at an interactive programme in Mangaluru on 'Textbook Politics—Truth and Myth', during which he said textbook revision aims to set right "anomalies" to instil a "sense of nationalism" among the people.The "anomalies" that Ravi was referring to, however, remains a matter of debate. Opposition parties have been accusing BJP of "saffronising" education to push its ideology. The ruling party is justifying the revision, claiming it to be a process of making history "factual". The biggest "anomaly" is lost on the ruling and the opposition parties even as they duel over the righteousness of textbook revision—the lack of a holistic approach in the education system itself. Whether the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 will realise it, remains to be seen.

Education is supposed to be a process of reforming the human mind—a progressive reform, not a regressive one. While expanding knowledge, it needs to strengthen the mind and shape the character of the individual. It needs to create an urge to put the individual's potential to optimum use for the betterment of society in its multiple domains. The focus should be on developing social, cognitive and vocational skills, boosting confidence and making science subjects and their teaching methods more interesting to kindle a scientific temper.

However, the revisions made so far in the school textbooks pertain to history and the Kannada language. Now, while the BJP national general secretary speaks about a "pending full-fledged revision"—if and when they do take it up—will the potential power of education's positive influence on young individuals be taken into consideration? Or will it continue to deal with "correcting" the past instead of ensuring a healthier, more conducive future for the citizens, through better quality education?

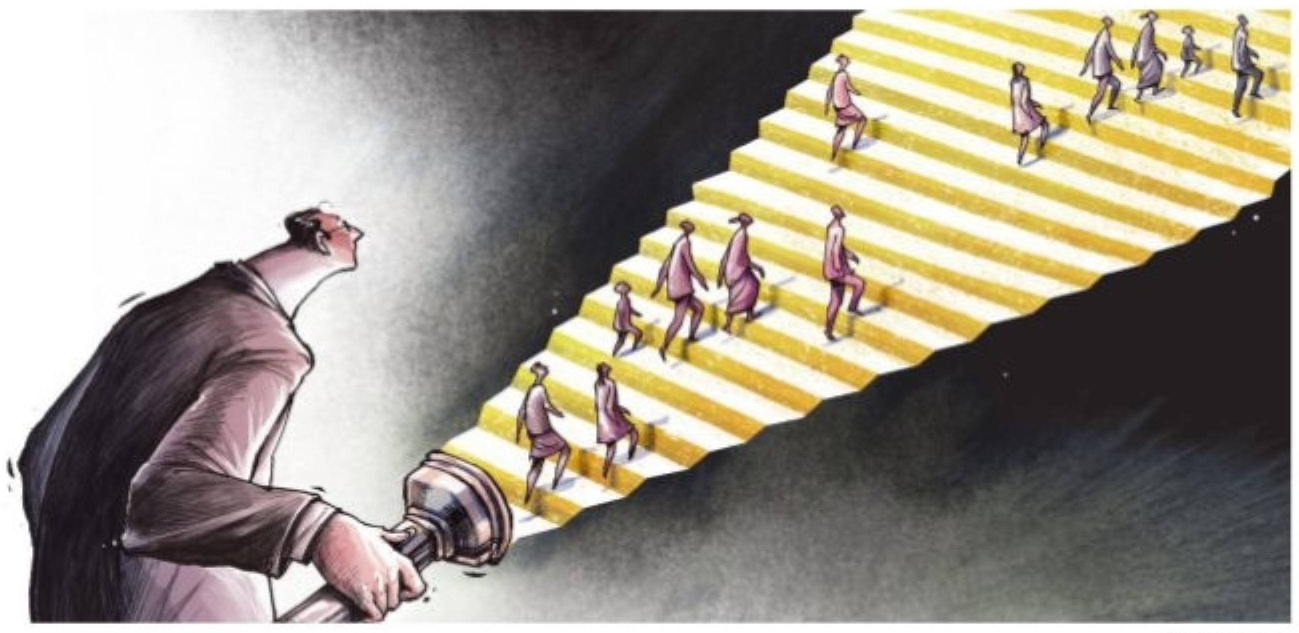
A COLLECTIVE LEGEND CAN HELP TRANSFORMATIONS



SOUMYADIP SINHA

R GOPALAKRISHNAN

Author and business commentator

BUILDING BUSINESSES

In my native Tamil language, a single alphabet like Pa represents four alphabets of Sanskrit pa, pha, ba, bha. The pronunciation in a word is determined by the alphabets that precede and follow. Papa and Baba have the same spelling. What precedes and follows an alphabet determines the word's meaning and pronunciation. I quote this linguistic as a metaphor for inclusiveness in society—what is adjacent, what precedes and what follows is important to appreciate a person.

Transformations are necessarily painful as I pointed out in this column last month. An important reason for pain is the lack of a collective legend about the future. A collective legend is a distinctive story about the future that has been developed by people on an inclusive basis. The key words in the preceding sentence have been italicised. They are not explained here for want of space and, anyway, they mean exactly what they imply.

A collective legend is an intense and painful democratic process, full of compromises and adjustments. Think about how the Constituent Assembly developed our constitution or how the Nehru-Mahalanobis combination explained planning to the people of India. Inclusiveness means that what is around the person is as important as the person.

Democracy and authoritarianism are not natural companions. In long-surviving organizations, there is likely to be a collective and valuable memory about the past but as we move from the present to the future, there are likely to be divergent views. We see this in companies, societies, and nations.

At a national and society level, the divergent views about the present and the future manifest as ethnic or religious narcissism. Leaders hark back to a glorious past and seek to revive the mythical, good old days. That is why Putin sees himself as a modern Peter the Great or Boris Johnson sees himself as a new-age Churchill. One religion or ethnic group is proclaimed to be original, and others are portrayed as 'others'—for example, the fate suffered by the Romani in Hungary.

Integrating a diverse nation or company is not easy. I had two experiences during the 1990s: one in Jeddah, while integrating 11 joint ventures in the Middle East into a cohesive Unilever Arabia, and again, in India, while integrating eight companies, which were merged to form Brooke Bond Lipton India Limited. Although this column is about corporate experiences, I shall describe the lessons that I learnt in a future article.

I offer an important lesson with a hindsight perspective of the challenges in developing a collective legend. The elephant in the room is that the old is dying, but the new has not yet been born. Transformation represents the interregnum when the individual's sense of vulnerability increases and when multiple emotions—anxiety, anger, disillusionment—may coalesce into an unhealthy apathy.

In this maelstrom of emotions and vulnerability, you need leaders who are intellectual nomads; without them, the pain of transformation increases. An intellectual nomad is a leader who approaches the transformation challenge with empathy—an open mind, a determination to listen, and a will to relearn old truths.

In the transition between the old and the new, a planned or inadvertent othering develops between the 'real' and the 'pretenders.' Every individual wants to be heard—this is a basic human want. Leaders must invest in formal and informal ways to listen; above all, they must be seen to be listening, otherwise, disillusion grows and trust declines among the people. This is understandable because in losing our voice, something in us dies. This can be minimised when leaders reach out and listen, not just widely, but to the weakest members of the ecosystem.

Transformation represents the interregnum when the individual's sense of vulnerability increases and when multiple emotions—anxiety, anger, disillusionment—may coalesce into an unhealthy apathy

In the 1990s, South Africa was transforming from an apartheid-ridden society to a rainbow society. Nelson Mandela wanted to show support for South Africa in the World Cup Rugby finals at Johannesburg in 1995. Because the Springboks team was historically white, his advisors dissuaded Mandela from attending. Mandela adopted the opposite of their advice by wearing the Springboks jersey and cheering for the national team. He demonstrated that othering delays transformation.

When Gandhiji wished to emotionally connect with the common Indian, he shed western attire for the loin cloth, travelled in third class, and adopted the spinning wheel. Through his empathy, he managed to touch millions of Indians with his idea of ahimsa. He lived his advice to others: "Be the change you want to see."

Dr B R Ambedkar passionately believed that India will not reap the real fruits of educational and economic reform if there is no simultaneous social reform. He possibly desired national communication and reform efforts on the scale of the subsequent Family Planning and Swachh Bharat efforts. He advocated harmonised social integration efforts, including inter-caste marriages. Instead, over 75 years, India has resorted to caste reservations, perhaps producing the opposite effect.

When M G Ramachandran proposed the mid-day meal scheme for Tamilnadu schools in the late 1970s—revolutionary for those times—he faced bureaucratic resistance on account of budgets. It is reported that he asked his officers in an emotional tone, "Pasi na ennendu ungallukku theriyuma? Nan thaanga midiyada pasi therinjirken." This means, have you experienced real hunger? I have experienced unbearable hunger. That did it. Tamil Nadu introduced the scheme to great advantages in the 50 years that have followed.

When evaluating the implementation of the Amul model, Lal Bahadur Shastri spent time—including one night incognito—with dairy farmers to personally understand the implications of the Amul experiment started by Dr V Kurien. Indeed, Dr Kurien prided himself to be an employee of the farmers despite his 'foreignness' as a Kerala Christian and a foreign-trained engineer.Companies in our nation, indeed the nation, seek rapid and sustainable growth to alleviate poverty and obscurantism. Our leaders must do more to develop a collective legend and demonstrate empathy for the needs of the people.

TIME TO FOCUS ON DEVELOPMENT, NOT POLARISATION

ASHOKE K MAITRA

Founder, Sri Ramakrishna International Institute of Management

Our freedom fighters had one dream—to create an independent, secular and democratic India where all citizens live in peace, practise their respective faiths and lead a comfortable life. The founding fathers of the Indian Constitution laid a lot of emphasis on it.

I grew up hearing stories of the freedom struggle and the sacrifices made by millions of people from villages, talukas and towns to drive the British out of India. When the British realised they were losing, they created communal riots and succeeded in their aim of dividing India and creating Pakistan. This last act by the British before they left for good inflicted permanent damage on India's soul. The East Pakistan freedom fighters received support from the Indian armed forces, which eventually led to the birth of Bangladesh. The security problems of at least one side could be reduced by having a friendly neighbour.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi is a great statesman and has maintained good relations with Bangladesh as well as other Asian countries.

During the partition, millions of Bengalis who lived in erstwhile East Bengal and the people of Punjab lost everything and came to India to save their lives. A few days ago, I met an industrialist from Mumbai. He had fled during the partition to save his life. His father had a prosperous business in Lahore. He stayed in Kingsway Camp in Delhi in a house which had no toilets; he lived in utter poverty. His education ended abruptly. But today, he has a thriving business of ₹1,500 crore.

There are many such champions in India, who went through the horrors of partition. I have spoken to quite a few of them and none of them want a Hindu-Muslim divide. They all want peace and harmony. It is clear that those who create polarisation are doing it for an ignoble purpose. What the now-suspended BJP leader Nupur Sharma said about Prophet Muhammad is unpardonable and it has hurt the sentiments of Muslims all over the world. She did it for a purpose. The BJP did the correct thing by expelling her.

However, after 10 days, when we see well-orchestrated protests happening all over India by the Muslims, we know it is also by design and not by default.The essence of the Vedanta, the most revered Hindu scripture, says: "Ekam Sadvipra Vahuda Vadanti." It means there is only one God who is worshipped in different names.

Swami Vivekananda's guru Sri Ramakrishna practised Islam, Christianity, Vedic methods, and dualist methods. He said: "As all rivers lead to the sea, so all faiths lead to the one God which is the universal consciousness."Jesus Christ, too, said, "God made himself in the image of Man", pointing to God as man, and serving the poor as serving God. "Tat Tvam Asi", is a line in the Upanishads which means all living creatures are Gods. We all have a God within us. Hindus call it the atman and Christians call it the soul. Therefore, if our nation has to prosper socially, economically and spiritually, we need unity in diversity and not divisiveness. We need to focus our attention on development and not divide.

India has the capacity to grow at 8% GDP, if peace and tranquility prevails. Communal disharmony comes with a huge economic cost as normal life gets disturbed. It is far easier to control the pandemic than communal disharmony. The government may like to focus on seven areas of development:

1. Have a zero-tolerance policy in using religion for political gains, conversion, and creating communal unrest.
2. Provide social security to all those who earn less than ₹10,000 as total family income per month.
3. Request public and private-sector industries to provide skill-building education on their premises and hire good students.
4. Dismantle National Skill Development Corporation, which has low impact and is wasting money on training wrong partners.
5. Provide primary healthcare facilities and ambulance services to the poor.
6. Offer quality primary education to those in need by providing mobiles, telephones and computers.
7. Provide proper equipment and cattle to the poor so that their agricultural activities thrive, helping them avail fair prices through electronic auctions.
8. The government and private banks should provide funds to the poor and set up enterprises. They must not levy any taxes on them. Institutions such as Grameen Bank of Bangladesh need to be managed by NGOs.
9. NGOs need to be rated by CRISIL or CARE. Thereafter, we must identify and ban all spurious NGOs.
10. The government should empanel highly-rated NGOs and make them development partners for implementing government schemes. This will provide necessary funding for the NGOs and help enforce these schemes.

It is time for everyone to realise that we should ardently focus on social, economic and sustainable development so that our country can reach greater heights and become a superpower.

The 50/50 solution

K T Rama Rao's proposal to make suspended nodal officials work when they receive 50% pay instead of paying them for not working is a good one indeed. This will hopefully prevent the laziness and corrupt practices that they would previously indulge in. I believe that this proposal should not be limited only to the Infrastructure department; it must be extended to every department.

No scope for oppn

This is with reference to Didi in Delhi for the big meeting as Oppn scurries to find Prez candidate (June 15). It is amusing to know that opposition parties are trying to find a consensus candidate for the Presidential elections. Many prominent names are in the fray, but the opposition is finding it so hard to choose a candidate—they know fully well there is no scope for winning.

Dr M Haneef, Kottayam

Pick the right President

Thol. Thirumavalavan has suggested that the common candidate in the Presidential elections should be a Christian because so far, other communities have been given preference. I believe that the West has a notion that Christians are suppressed by the BJP. If a Christian is elected as the President, the image that foreigners have about India could also be erased. The question is: who will actually be the right person to hold the post of the President of India?

Rajakumar Arulanandham, Tirunelveli

Citizens in the army

The Indian government's Agneepath Job Scheme is a very innovative idea. If we look at society today, there is a general sense of indiscipline and nonchalance. I wish this scheme was tweaked to make one year of military service compulsory for all citizens. For instance, postgraduate doctors who pass out of government and aided medical colleges should serve in the forces. Although some are apprehensive about the training being inadequate, I'd like to remind everyone of how bravely the Short Service Commissioned officers fought in the Kargil War. And really, it would bode well to have politicians serve as well—we'd perhaps have a more disciplined political realm.

O P Swaminathan, Bengaluru

See through propaganda

A lot of propaganda is being unleashed in the support of Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi in the National Herald case. We must remember that they are on bail right now. So, the allegation of vendetta politics might be misplaced. I think the accused should defend themselves and get acquitted, just like Modi did without any fuss.

Dr R Narasimha, Chennai

Isolate Pakistan

This is with reference to Securing Kashmir aganist Emerging Terror Threats (June 15). Unfortunately, India has unreliable neighbours like Pakistan and China, which require it to be vigilant on the border. The recurring targeted killings against Hindu pandits is a clever tactic against the Centre's move of abrogating Article 370 of the Constitution. In view of the above situations, permanent peace in the region is impossible. Moreover, it is high time for Pakistan to be isolated by the international community.

HOW THE NUMBER GAME IS POISED

The ruling National Democratic Alliance has 440 MPs while the opposition UPA has around 180 MPs, besides 36 MPs of the Trinamool Congress. If calculated roughly, the NDA has around 5,35,000 votes out of a total of 10,86,431 votes of all electors. This includes 3,08,000 votes with the support of its MPs and allies. The alliance is hopeful of support from independent regional parties such as the YSRCP, BJD and AIADMK

5,43,200 TOTAL VOTES

4,809 MLAs

TOTAL VOTES: 5,43,231 = 10,86,431

A voting weightage is assigned to an MP and an MLA. The value of each MLA's vote is determined based on the population of their state (as per 1971 Census) and the number of MLAs. For instance, an MLA from UP has a value of 208 while an MLA from Sikkim has 7.

The value of an MP's vote is the sum of all votes of MLAs across the country divided by the number of elected MPs. This value is 700 for each MP in this presidential poll.

Agnipath plan comes under fire from various quarters

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

THE government's new defence recruitment policy Agnipath has triggered a major debate. While the government has termed it "transformative", critics in opposition parties have questioned the intentions of the government. Street protests by youths aspiring to join the Army took place at various places in the country.

Congress MP Rahul Gandhi termed it an "uncalled for" move, that too at the time when India is facing threats on twin-fronts. "When India faces threats on two fronts, the uncalled-for Agnipath scheme reduces the operational effectiveness of our armed forces."

Questioning the short tenure of service, BJP MP from Pilibhit Varun Gandhi wrote, "Even the government gets elected for five years. Then why only four years are given to the youth to serve the nation?"

Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra asked why the government was making recruitment in the Army its "laboratory".

The Cabinet approved the scheme on Tuesday. Around 46,000 youth between the age of 17-and-a-half years and 21 years will be inducted into the Army, Navy and Air Force for a period of four years. Earlier, youths between 16-and a-half years and 21 were selected for a minimum of 15 years of service and were eligible for pension.

Under the new scheme, all recruits will leave after four years and then around 25% of them will be taken back from them under a fresh process. Then, they will serve on a permanent commission. The recruitment will be on an "all India-all class" basis. Earlier, it was based on region and caste.

Job aspirants protest against the Agnipath scheme in Bihar's Buxar | PTI

RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav raised fear of law and order. "A large population which is trained in using arms will get unemployed at the age of 22 years after serving for a temporary short period. Will it not lead to a law and order situation in the country?"

Many veterans were also critical of the scheme. Lt-Gen (retd) PR Shankar wrote in his blog: "Many senior veterans have written with the wisdom of their experience. A common voice has emerged. The 'tour of duty' does not seem to be a good idea. Proceed with caution."

Bihar and some other states witnessed protests as job aspirants blocked roads and rail tracks. The protesters raised slogans of 'bharti do ya arthi do' (recruit us or kill us). Regular recruitment rallies were stopped after the outbreak of Covid-19. After two years of waiting, the government has offered this short-term recruitment scheme, which will only create uncertainties in their lives, the job aspirants said.

THE Telecom Regulatory Authority of India had suggested about 39% cut in floor price, which was seen as deeply disappointing by the industry.

According to the DoT, the auction will be held for spectrum in various Low (600 MHz, 700 MHz, 800 MHz, 900 MHz, 1800 MHz, 2100 MHz, 2300 MHz), Mid (3300 MHz) and High (26 GHz) frequency bands.

ED questions Rahul Gandhi over loan, summons again tomorrow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) grilled Congress leader Rahul Gandhi for the third consecutive day on Wednesday for alleged financial irregularities in the National Herald case. His questioning on Day Three went on for nearly 10 hours. He has been summoned again on Friday, June 17 as he sought an exemption for Thursday.

The ED is questioning Gandhi over a loan of ₹1 crore received by the Young Indian Private Limited through cheque from the Kolkata-based company based in Dotex Merchandise Pvt. Ltd.

The agency reportedly quizzed the Congress MP about what happened on December 13, 2010, at the first managing committee meeting of Young Indian, where he was appointed as its director. He was also asked about the cheque of ₹1 crore received on December 24, 2010 "even when Young Indian did not even have a bank account where such a cheque could be deposited".

The probe agency has alleged that the money paid as a loan was never returned and there is speculation that the money was possibly laundered through Young Indian. According to the investigators, a significant portion of this loan was used in acquiring Young Indian's only major asset, the shares of The Associated Journals, the company that owns and publishes National Herald.

The agency is also questioning Rahul about the functioning of Young Indian.

NO 4TH WAVE AS RISE IN CASES NOT DRIVEN BY NEW VARIANTS

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

IIT-KANPUR'S prediction of a fourth wave hitting India on June 22 going to come true? Experts say that despite India recording over 84,000 Covid-19 cases in two weeks, it can't be said as no new variant has been detected that could lead to a next wave.

Most of the fresh cases being reported are from seven states, with Kerala recording the highest number of cases and deaths, followed by Maharashtra, and Delhi. Karnataka, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh and Tamil Nadu are the other states with high cases.

According to Dr Samiran Panda, Additional Director General, ICMR, and head of its Epidemiology and Communicable Diseases, the surge in the past 14 days cannot be termed the fourth wave. Stressing that the spike is not "a uniform phenomenon for the whole country," Panda said only a few districts in some states are reporting cases. He, however, said much depends on whether a new variant is causing the surge. "If we detect a new variant with an immune escape ability and serious disease-causing ability, then only we can think of it as a fourth wave. The good thing is we are not seeing any health-system burden as yet," Panda said.

Dr Rajeev Jayadevan, co-chairman of IMA's Covid-19 task force, said the uptick in numbers is small as so far no new variant has been detected. Researchers at IIT-Kanpur had predicted in February that the fourth wave would start on June 22 and would peak on August 23. They said it would end on October 24.

'Covaxin booster improves efficacy against two variants'

NEW DELHI: A booster dose of Covaxin enhances vaccine effectiveness against Delta and Omicron variants BA.1.1 and BA.2, a study by ICMR and Bharat Biotech said.

The protective efficacy of Covaxin following two and three-dose immunisations against the two variants was studied in a Syrian hamster model(animal model to study human-associated diseases).

"In the Delta infection study, where we compared the protective response between the two and three-dose regimens, we could observe the advantage of the booster dose vaccination in the protection. Although the neutralising antibody levels were comparable among the groups, lung disease severity was found more reduced after the three dose vaccination. The virus shedding and viral organ load were considerably reduced in both the two dose and three-dose immunised animals indicating the vaccine efficacy against Delta variant," said the study. ENS

Modi goes all out in Gujarat with welfare schemes

PM Modi is trying to woo the Patidars, OBCs, and tribals in the region ahead of the polls

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi has unleashed a slew of development works in his home state due for polls later this year. He will visit Vadodara on June 18 where he will inaugurate and lay the foundation stone for various projects worth over ₹21,000 crore.

Vadodara Gujarat has been the BJP's comfort zone. Modi had selected the Vadodara seat in 2014 for his Lok Sabha election. The party rules all local bodies, in the city.

In the 2017 assembly polls, the BJP won all the seven seats in the Vadodara Lok Sabha constituency.

Central Gujarat comprises Ahmedabad, Vadodara, Anand, Kheda, Dahod, Panchmahal, and Chhota Udaipur districts and sends 61 MLAs to the Assembly. Tribal communities, OBCs, and Patidars are dominant in the region. If trends are any indication, the Congress generally wins in tribal-dominated areas whereas the BJP wins in OBC and Patidar-dominated areas. However, things could be vastly different in the 2022 election.

Central Gujarat has the highest number of a dozen reserved seats for tribal communities. The Vadodara City seat is reserved for the Dalit community.

Amit Dholakia, head of Political Science, MS University, says caste-based politics has been weakening since Modi's rise in Gujarat, especially in Central Gujarat. Once considered a Congress bastion, the results of the last two polls show that BJP has won in the Congress constituencies as well. "The way Modi is campaigning in central Gujarat, the Congress could be wiped out," said Dholakia.

"BJP faces no challenge in central Gujarat. AAP is inactive and the Congress has no effective leadership. The larger picture at the moment appears most favourable for the BJP," said Dholakia.

Threats from 'Moosewala killer', says AIMIM leader

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Ahmedabad

GUJARAT president of the All India Majlis-E-Ittehadul Muslimee (AIMIM), Sabir Kabliwala, has approached the police, saying he received death threats on the telephone, with the caller claiming to have killed Punjabi singer Sidhu Moosewala.

Kabliwala submitted a complaint that he received over 20 calls on Tuesday between 9:50 pm and 12 am from a person who identified himself as Imran. Kabliwala called on the helpline number 100 for police support at his residence in Ahmedabad on Tuesday night.

The Gujarat Police have registered an FIR and launched an investigation.

Kabliwala said that he was sitting in a car near Rani Sipri mosque when he got a WhatsApp call from an unknown number. "The caller said that a man named Satyug Maharaj had given a contract to him to kill me," he said, adding that he also got a video call wherein a bag full of ₹2,000 notes was visible. "The caller told me that he wanted money from me, else he would kill me," Kabliwala told the police, adding that he also got a message mentioning a bank account in the name of one Minhaj Khatun.

Clash ends, Tomar camp candidate to fight mayor poll

ANURAAG SINGH @Bhopal

AFTER days of suspense over who will be the BJP candidate for the mayoral polls from Gwalior, the party finally on Wednesday evening named Suman Sharma as its candidate for the election scheduled to happen next month.

Suman Sharma was the candidate favoured by the camp of Union Agriculture Minister Narendra Singh Tomar. The one led by Union Civil Aviation Ainister Jyotiraditya Scindia was backing ex-mayor Samiksha Gupta.

The decision came three days before the last date of filing nomination papers.

The Gwalior mayor's post is reserved for a woman from the general category. Sharma is the daughter-in-law of the two-time former BJP MLA from Gwalior Assembly seat and ex-mayor, Dharam Veer Sharma. She has earlier been the Gwalior district BJP Mahila Morcha chief and the state general secretary of the same wing.

Sharma will take on Congress candidate Shobha Sikarwar, a two-time municipal councilor and wife of Gwalior East Congress MLA Satish Sikarwar.

The long wait for the announcement happened apparently due to a lack of consensus on a common candidate between the Tomar and Scindia camps. The Tomar camp was also batting for BJP Mahila Morcha leader Khushboo Gupta. Former MP minister and party veteran Maya Singh, who is related to the Scindia family, couldn't get the party's nod. The 71-year-old was herself not very keen to contest the polls.

Polls to elect mayors in 15 cities of MP will be held in two phases on July 6 and July 13.

KIN IN THE FRAY

While BJP has largely fielded its and RSS workers, it has put up outgoing mayor Madhuri Patel from Burhanpur, despite opposition by cadre. Her husband Atul Patel is former mayor, and the cadres feel the post has got one family's hold. In Khandwa, BJP has fielded Amrita Yadav, daughter-in-law of ex-MLA Hukum Chand Yadav and wife of outgoing Municipal Corp. head Amar Yadav

MP stares at petrol, diesel crisis as firms cut supply

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

A petrol and diesel crisis looms large in Madhya Pradesh, as some prominent oil marketing companies have cut supplies to petrol pumps across the state, including Bhopal. According to sources, out of the around 4,900 petrol pumps in the state, about 1,000 pumps, particularly those in remote areas, have either gone dry or have just three to four days stock (particularly of diesel) left.

"Many petrol pumps have dried out or are on the verge of it due to reduced supplies. We already suffer loss during monsoon, which is about to begin. This will add to our woes," MP Petrol Pumps Dealers Association head Ajay Singh said.

According to industry sources, Chhattisgarh, Gujarat, Uttarakhand and Haryana could also be facing similar situation, as the oil marketing companies stare at huge under-recoveries as they find it tough to incur ₹28 per litre loss on diesel and ₹16 per litre loss on petrol.

IIT (ISM) scientists have succeeded in developing an absorbent that helps in the removal of Arsenic from groundwater. A four-member team of researchers, led by Associate professor of Environment Science Engineering Department Dr SR Samadder, claimed that arsenic can be removed through coating of nano-manganese on calcinated laterite soil. Notably, Arsenic has been identified as Class-I human carcinogen and the WHO has set the permissible limit to 10 microgram per litre in drinking water. Unfortunately, most of the Arsenic-affected population belong to rural areas and they do not have access to safe drinking water.

Yadav honours bonded labour survivors

Three youth leaders and children from Jharkhand, who were forced to live in bondage and deprivation of child labour, have emerged from the darkness of child labour to become catalysts of social change. They once toiled in the mica mines in exchange for a few morsels of food. But, now they are leading the fight against child labour. Another young girl from a marginalised family is now spearheading the movement against child marriage. These four children were felicitated by Union Minister of Labour Bhupender Yadav on the eve of June 12, the World Day Against Child Labour. Acute poverty forces such boys to work in inhuman conditions.

Triangular fight likely in Mandar by-election

The Mandar by-poll is is likely to become tougher as the seat will witness a triangular contest after BJP leader Deo Kumar Dhan filing the nomination paper as independent candidate. Dhan has filed the nomination as Independent candidate after BJP decided to field its 2014 MLA Gangotri Kujur as party candidate. The Congress has fielded Shilpa Neha Tirkey, daughter of former Mandar MLA Bandhu Tirkey. This by-election, it is believed to be a tough contest between Congress, BJP and independent Dev Kumar Dhan. In 2019, BJP had denied ticket to its sitting MLA and had fielded Dhan as party candidate, but he lost to then JVM candidate Bandhu Tirkey by more than 23,000 votes.

Militant who killed bank manager shot dead by security forces

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

TWO local Lashkar-e-Taiba militants, including one involved in the killing of bank manager Vijay Kumar from Rajasthan, were shot dead by security troops in Shopian district on Wednesday. The militants involved in the killing of a woman teacher are trapped in an encounter in Kulgam, police said.

A police official said that acting on specific information about the militants' presence, a joint contingent of police, CRPF and army launched a search operation in Kanjuilar area of Shopian. During the search operation, militants fired on the troops. The fire was returned by the security men and in the ensuing gunfight, LeT militants Jan Mohammad Lone and Tufail Nazir Ganai were killed.

Inspector General of Police, Kashmir, Vijay Kumar, said, "Lone was earlier working for LeT's district commander, Adil Ramzan. After he killed the bank manager, he actively joined militant ranks. We were tracking him since then."

Vijay, an Ellaqie Dehati employee, was shot dead by militants inside the bank branch in Areh Mohanpora in Kulgam district on June 2.

Meanwhile, police said two local militants of Hizbul Mujahideen, involved in the killing of school teacher Rajni Bala, are trapped in an encounter at Reshipora in Kulgam. Rajni, 36, was killed by militants inside the school in Gopalpora on May 31.

Police had launched a search operation in a vast orchard in Reshipora on Monday, after getting inputs about the presence of militants there.

"It is not known yet whether any of the two militants has been killed," sources said.

Meanwhile, police on Wednesday recovered explosives from an abandoned bag in a passenger bus near Jhajjar Kotli area on the outskirts of Jammu during a routine security check. The bomb disposal squad was called in to detonate the explosives in a controlled manner.

Prayagraj vandalism: Police release photos of 40 'Wanted' protestors

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

THE Prayagraj police have released the pictures of at least 40 persons who were allegedly involved in stone-pelting and vandalism during the protests on June 10 in Kareli locality against ex-BJP spokesperson Nupur Sharma's comments about Prophet Mohammad.

According to Prayagraj SSP Ajay Kumar, the photographs were collected from CCTV footages and video clips. He said so far 95 people have been arrested in connection with the agitation.

The posters will also be put up at various places in the city so that the residents can help the police, sources said.

Police say the violence was apparently pre-planned as most rioters came on two-wheelers and were covering their faces.

The police have appealed to the rioters to surrender or else their properties would be confiscated by securing a relevant court order.

The SSP said the district administration removed 30 truckloads of bricks and stones from Atala, Kareli and adjoining localities, which witnessed violent protests.

Kumar said only hardcore criminals, key conspirators and facilitators of the violence and arson would be arrested. "We want people to trust us that no innocent would be booked or harassed unnecessarily," he said.

Choose words with care, Yogi to cadre

Lucknow: UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath has sent out a word of caution to his ministers, asking them to avoid making any provocative statements on any issue, including the remarks of ex-BJP leader Nupur Sharma. The missive from Yogi came while he was presiding over a meeting of his council of ministers on Tuesday to discuss the party's strategy for the upcoming bypolls. According to a source, Yogi asked the cabinet colleagues to toe the party line while giving public statements, especially, when the bypoll to two Lok Sabha seats of Rampur and Azamgarh are inching closer. "Those in government offices should uphold the dignity and decorum of their offices," Yogi said. ENS

Ranchi: Poster politics begins over removal of pics

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

ACCUSING the Hemant Soren-led government of playing appeasement politics, former chief minister Raghubar Das has alleged that state machineries have knelt down before the communal forces, also protecting them in order to secure the ruling party's vote bank. The remarks come following the prompt removal by the police of posters showing pictures of rioters that were put up in Ranchi, appealing to people to identify them and inform their whereabouts to the police station.

"Under whose pressure the posters were removed should be a matter of investigation," Das said, adding that, "I also demand the district administration to be extra alert on the coming Friday so that any untoward incident is avoided."

According to Das, SIT probe is eyewash and the matter should be referred to central agencies for a fair probe.

Taking a dig at the Hemant Soren government, BJP legislative party leader Babulal Marandi said, "Ranchi Police removed the posters under the pressure of JMM; it is quite evident that the people sitting in power are still engaged in manipulative politics."

State BJP chief Deepak Prakash also questioned the connection between protesters who appeared in the posters and the ruling alliance.

JMM central general secretary Supriyo Bhattacharya dismissed the allegations, saying, "I feel that putting posters of wanted protesters may further disturb the social harmony in the state."

The Ranchi police have appealed to people to share video footages and photographs related to the Friday violence with them, assuring them that their names and addresses will be kept confidential

Bengal fails to spend ₹400 cr health mission funds received from Centre

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

AT a time when Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee is accusing the BJP-led Centre of holding the release of ₹6,500 crore under the MGNREGA scheme, the West Bengal government has failed to spend ₹400 crore under the National Health Mission (NHM) scheme in the just-concluded financial year, according to sources in the health department. Only 68 per cent of the fund given under the NHM scheme could be spent within the stipulated time.

The director of the NHM in the state on Monday sent a message to the chief medical officers, saying that if the expenditure of ₹400 crore of the Centre's allotted fund is not shown within next one week, Bengal will not get fresh fund from the Centre under the scheme in the first phase of present financial year.

"This is a herculean task. When we could not spend the money in an entire financial year, how is it possible to show its expenditure within a week?," an official asked.

In the 2021-22 financial year, the state had submitted a project implementation plan worth ₹3,301 crore to the NHM, and the Centre had approved projects worth ₹2,738 crore. The Centre was supposed to give 60 per cent of the total project cost while the rest had to be borne by the state government.

"Accordingly, the Centre allotted ₹1,643 crore and the state incurred ₹1,095 crore. But we could not submit expenditure of ₹400 crore of the central fund. Now, the Centre has said if we fail to show the expenditure, they will deduct it from the allotment of the first phase of this financial year, which means we will get nothing,'' said another official.

The official added that main expenditures could not be uploaded because the server of the bank, through which the department works, did not work during April-May. "Many bills from vendors didn't reach us or could not be scrutinised on time. This also led to our failure to show the expenditure,'' the official admitted.

China will keep backing Russia on sovereignty, security: Xi tells Putin

Praises 'good momentum of development' in bilateral relations since start of year

Beijing, Moscow agree to ramp up economic cooperation amid sanctions

Moscow: Russian leader Vladimir Putin and Chinese President Xi Jinping agreed on Wednesday to ramp up economic cooperation in the face of "unlawful" Western sanctions, the Kremlin said. "It was agreed to expand cooperation in the energy, financial, industrial, transport and other areas, taking into account the situation in the global economy that has become more complicated due to the unlawful sanctions of the West," the Kremlin said following talks between the leaders. AFP

BEIJING

CHINESE President Xi Jinping told his Russian counterpart Vladimir Putin in a call on Wednesday that Beijing would keep backing Moscow on "sovereignty and security", according to state media.

China is "willing to continue to offer mutual support (to Russia) on issues concerning core interests and major concerns such as sovereignty and security," Chinese state broadcaster CCTV reported Xi as saying.

It was the second reported call between the two leaders since Putin launched his invasion of Ukraine on February 24.

China has refused to condemn Moscow's invasion of Ukraine and has been accused of providing diplomatic cover for Russia by blasting Western sanctions and arms sales to Kyiv.

According to CCTV, Xi praised the "good momentum of development" in bilateral relations since the start of the year "in the face of global turmoil and changes". Beijing was willing to "intensify strategic coordination between the two countries", Xi reportedly said.

China was ready to "strengthen communication and coordination" with Russia in international organisations and "push the international order and global governance towards more just and reasonable development," he added.

The European Union and the United States have warned that any backing from Beijing for Russia's war in Ukraine, or help for Moscow to dodge Western sanctions, would damage ties with China.

Rocket launchers' delivery soon: UK defence secretary

Oslo: Britain will soon deliver multiple-launch rocket systems to Ukraine in response to its request for heavy arms to repel the Russian invasion, UK Defence Secretary Ben Wallace said on Wednesday. London had announced on June 6 that it would send Ukraine its Guided Multiple Launch Rocket System, which has better range than Russia's artillery. AFP

China and India are two major economies that have not taken part in retaliatory measures against Moscow over its invasion. In the eyes of Chinese officials, the Europeans have allowed themselves to be sucked into backing Ukraine, at Washington's initiative, in a move contrary to their interests as Russian gas consumers.

Once bitter Cold War enemies, Beijing and Moscow have stepped up cooperation in recent years as a counterbalance to what they see as US global dominance. The two countries have drawn closer in the political, trade and military spheres as part of what they call a "no limits" relationship.

The two sides last week unveiled the first road bridge linking the two countries, connecting the far eastern Russian city of Blagoveshchensk with the northern Chinese city of Heihe.

Beijing is Moscow's largest trading partner, with trade volumes last year hitting $147 billion, according to Chinese customs data. AFP

Be with us: Zelenskyy presses Europe for help

Prague: Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy on Wednesday recalled the 1968 Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia as he pressed Europe for further help in responding to Russia's war in Ukraine. "We're with you, be with us," Zelenskyy told Czech lawmakers in Prague, quoting an appeal made by a Czechoslovak Radio presenter in 1968 as the occupants tried to cut the radio off. "Now when the Ukrainian people are fighting for freedom against Russia's cruel invasion, we are using these words to address all nations of Europe and the democratic world," he added. "Ukraine should get everything necessary to achieve a victory." He urged the Czech Republic to help accelerate the next package of sanctions against Russia. AFP

Too early to confirm Russia war crimes: UN

Kyiv: The UN's Ukraine panel on Wednesday confirmed receiving multiple allegations of rights abuses by Russian forces, but said it was too early to say whether they constituted war crimes. "In Bucha and Irpin, the commission has received information about arbitrary killings of civilians," said commission chairman Erik Mose. But Mose said the UN was "not in a position at this stage" to provide a full legal characterisation of the events. AFP

'Want written response from Finland, Sweden'

Ankara: Turkey said on Wednesday that it was waiting for a "written response" from Sweden and Finland to Ankara's objections to their NATO bids. "We have transmitted our questions in writing to these two countries," said Turkey foreign minister. AFP

Storm in a teacup as minister urges Pakistanis to cut back on 'chai'

ISLAMABAD

A PAKISTANI minister has caused a storm in a teacup by urging citizens to cut back on drinking 'chai' as a way to preserve foreign currency that pays to import the leaves used in brewing the popular beverage.

Pakistan is the world's biggest importer of tea — known locally as 'chai' — with the latest government figures showing it pays over $515 million a year to bring in the commodity, mostly from Kenya.

The country is suffering a long-brewing economic crisis, however, with dwindling foreign reserves used to pay crippling debt. "I would also appeal to the nation to cut down one or two cups of tea because the tea we import is also imported on credit," Ahsan Iqbal, minister for planning and development, said on Tuesday.

A man pours tea for customers at a restaurant in Islamabad | AFP

Pakistanis drink tea in many forms — black, green, hot, cold, sweet, salted and spiced — but the most popular is made by brewing the leaves in boiled sweetened milk.

Iqbal's comments prompted outrage on social media on Wednesday and in tea rooms across the country.

"Why should we reduce the use of tea... we drink at our own expense, we don't drink with government money," said Jan Muhammad, 45, a truck driver who says he drinks between 15 to 20 cups a day. "When you drive and you can't see the road... then there is a risk of an accident. That's why 20 cups are compulsory," he said.

At a tea stall in Islamabad's Aabpara market, baker Muhammad Ibrahim said he drank 12 cups every day. "I take three, four cups in the morning, then three in the afternoon and three, four late night," he said. "This is my addiction."

At the same restaurant, Tanveer Iqbal agreed that people should cut down — even as he and his four children sipped piping hot cups of the drink.

"Chai" usually sells for around 45 Pakistani rupees (20 cents) a cup at stalls across the country. "The government has increased its expenditure. They travel in big cars with protocol but we only enjoy tea," said driver Muhammad. AFP

WTO talks extended in bid to seal elusive deals

GENEVA

THE World Trade Organisation's ministerial conference will run over into a fifth day on Thursday in the hope of striking thus-far elusive deals on fishing subsidies, food security and combating Covid.

The gathering of trade ministers at the WTO's headquarters in Geneva was due to wrap up on Wednesday, with the global trade body hoping to conclude landmark deals to prove it still has a role to play in tackling big global challenges.

But WTO chief Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala, who has staked her leadership on breathing new life into the sclerotic organisation, said it seemed remaining sticking points could be resolved if ministers ploughed on.

"Progress is being made but it needs a little more work and more time," the director-general said.

The gathering is the first WTO ministerial conference in nearly five years. The global trade body only takes decisions by consensus among its 164 members.

"It requires that we work harder and work nights, whatever it takes. It is really time for ministers to make the requisite decisions that need to be made," said Okonjo-Iweala. AFP

Israel hopes Joe Biden's trip will help bolster ties with Saudi Arabia

JERUSALEM

ISRAEL is looking to US President Joe Biden's Mideast trip next month to bolster its efforts to normalise relations with Saudi Arabia, a country with which it does not have official ties, according to Israel's foreign minister.

Yair Lapid spoke a day after the White House announced the whirlwind trip to Israel and the West Bank followed by a flight to Saudi Arabia.

At a news conference in Jerusalem, Lapid was asked about his expectations from Biden's expected stop in the kingdom and first said he didn't want to 'steal the show from the president's visit.' But he said Saudi Arabia and Israel, as well as the wider Middle East, are under threat from Iran's nuclear capabilities.

'Everybody's looking to Saudi Arabia these days for several reasons,' Lapid said.

'The fact that the president's going to fly directly from here to Saudi Arabia is probably signifying that there is a linkage between the visit and the ability to improve relations," Israeli leaders have long said they want to add countries to the four Arab states — Bahrain, Sudan, Morocco and the United Arab Emirates — that established diplomatic ties with Israel known as the Abraham Accords. 'There is a list of target countries: Saudi is first among them,' along with other nations such as Indonesia, he told reporters.

Asked whether there would be an Israeli official on the plane to the kingdom, Lapid said he didn't know, but joked that the president's plane is 'a big aircraft,' so there would be room. Israel and Saudi Arabia do not have official diplomatic relations, but have shared clandestine security ties over a shared enmity of regional archrival Iran.

It has long been rumoured to be among the Arab states considering the establishment of open ties with Israel.

In 2020, then-Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu reportedly flew to Saudi Arabia for a meeting with Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman. That purported meeting came shortly after Israel had established full relations with the United Arab Emirates, Bahrain and Sudan as part of the U.S.-brokered 'Abraham Accords.' AP

Biden chastises oil industry over fuel costs

Washington: US President Joe Biden on Wednesday chastised the oil industry over soaring fuel prices at the heart of 40-year high inflation, warning of unspecified emergency measures. The letter, sent to seven major oil corporations, was Biden's most direct salvo yet in a campaign to blame the industry for stoking price increases. Average fuel prices are now $5 a gallon for drivers in the United States, up from $3 a year ago, and the spike is reverberating through the entire economy, helping to sink Biden's approval ratings to below 40%. AFP

Lanka stops migrant boat to Australia

COLOMBO

SRI LANKA'S navy said it stopped a fishing trawler transporting dozens of migrants to Australia on Wednesday, the fifth such attempt to be blocked in the last month.

The boat, crewed by five members, was detected near Trincomalee on the island nation's east coast with 50 men, 11 women and three children aboard as passengers, said navy spokesman Indika de Silva.

"The boat had just left from somewhere along the Trincomalee coast when it was detected by a navy craft," he said. "The suspects will be handed over to the police for further investigations."

Four other boats aiming to ferry passengers to Australia had attempted to embark from Sri Lanka in the past month, he said, adding that 300 people had been arrested for immigration-related offences over the same timeframe. Security officials have said Sri Lanka's worsening economic crisis may be encouraging illegal emigration.

The country has for months faced severe shortages of food, fuel and medicines after running out of foreign exchange to import essential goods. AFP

'Asian air travel set for 'V-shaped' recovery'

Kuala Lumpur: Air travel in Asia is set to make a "V-shaped comeback", budget carrier AirAsia's parent company said on Wednesday, as countries ease tough coronavirus curbs that have hammered the industry. The region's aviation sector has been slow to recover, as governments kept restrictions such as quarantines and testing in place far longer than in Europe and the United States. But countries in the Asia-Pacific have been gradually scrapping curbs in recent months, and travel is picking up again. "We will see a V-shaped comeback," said Colin Currie, a senior executive from Capital A, the parent company of AirAsia, one the region's biggest low-cost airlines. AFP

Prez reshuffles cabinet amid rising food prices

Jakarta: Indonesian President Joko Widodo announced a cabinet reshuffle on Wednesday, replacing key economic ministers amid a national cooking oil shortage and rising food prices. Widodo selected Zulkifli Hasan, the chairman of a political party that joined the ruling coalition last year, as Indonesia's new trade minister, replacing Muhammad Lutfi, who had been criticised for his handling of the cooking oil situation. Hasan held ministerial positions in previous governments and vowed to quickly tackle the shortage, making cooking oil available 'anywhere at an affordable price,' he told a news conference. A cooking oil crisis that was initially triggered by the Ukraine war shook up both domestic Indonesian politics and the global supply chain. AP

Post-Brexit deal: EU takes legal action against UK

BRUSSELS

THE European Commission launched new legal action against Britain on Wednesday, accusing London of putting peace in Northern Ireland at risk by trying to overhaul the post-Brexit trade deal.

"The UK government tabled legislation confirming its intention to unilaterally break international law," said EU commission vice-president Maros Sefcovic.

"More precisely to break an agreement that protects peace and stability in Northern Ireland," he said.

"Opening the door to unilaterally changing an international agreement is a breach of international law, as well. So let's call a spade a spade. This is illegal."

In London, Prime Minister Boris Johnson's spokesman said: "We are disappointed that the EU has taken this legal action today."

And he insisted that European proposals to resolve the impasse were a "step backwards". On Monday, the British government introduced legislation to rip up post-Brexit trading rules for Northern Ireland, in an attempt to override the EU withdrawal treaty that it had signed.

Johnson's government insists it is not breaking international law, citing a "necessity" to act to restore Northern Ireland's power-sharing institutions.

But Brussels rejects this argument, and Sefcovic said that legal action would be taken, with two new cases joining one the commission had suspended. AFP

PRIDE MONTH

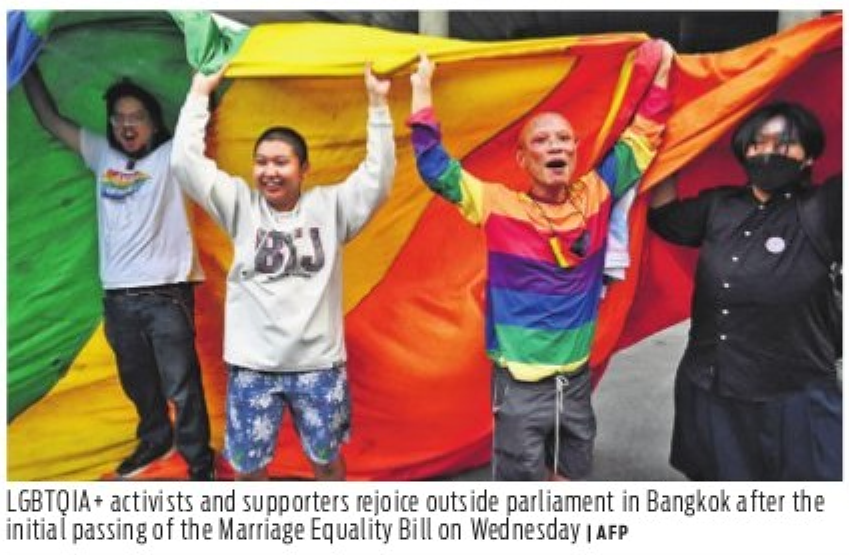
Thailand lawmakers say 'aye' to same-sex union

BANGKOK

THAILAND took a step towards marriage equality on Wednesday as lawmakers gave initial approval to legalising same-sex unions, prompting celebrations outside the parliament building. It is a significant landmark in a Buddhist-majority country with a highly visible LGBTQ community but whose members still face major barriers and discrimination.

The legislation must clear several more hurdles before becoming law. If it succeeds, Thailand would be the first country in Southeast Asia to recognise same sex unions.

The lower house approved two bills that would allow same-sex marriages and also two others that would permit civil partnerships. A committee of lawmakers will now scrutinise the bills in detail and consolidate them into two proposals, to give MPs a choice between backing civil partnerships and full same-sex marriage.



LGBTQIA+ activists and supporters rejoice outside parliament in Bangkok after the initial passing of the Marriage Equality Bill on Wednesday | AFP

After the vote a small but enthusiastic group of activists celebrated noisily outside parliament, weeping, hugging and waving rainbow flags.

"I am very happy and glad, it is a good sign in Pride month that there are MPs who want equality and vote for the bills," sid LGBTQ activist Nada Chaiyajit. "But there is a long way to go." Pita Limjaroenrat, the leader of the opposition Move Forward Party which proposed one of the same-sex marriage bills, said the vote should give people hope.

"Today is an answer that politics is possible here in Thailand. No matter who you are, there is a place for you in this country," Pita told the celebrating activists outside parliament. AFP

Saudi seizes rainbow toys in crackdown

Riyadh: Saudi officials are seizing rainbow-coloured toys and articles of clothing from shops in the capital as part of a crackdown on homosexuality, state media reported. The conservative kingdom opened up to tourism in 2019 but, like other Gulf countries, regularly attracts scrutiny for its human rights record, including its outlawing of homosexuality, a potential capital offence. Items targeted in the recent raids include rainbow-coloured bows, skirts, hats and pencil cases. AFP

NCLT nod on resolution plan must within 30 days, says insolvency panel

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP), which has been marred by delays and lower recoveries, is set for an overhaul as the Insolvency Law Committee has recommended several changes.

The panel has suggested the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) should not take over 30 days after receiving a request for approval or rejection of a resolution plan. The committee noted delays in approval of the resolution plan is one of the major reasons for slowing down the process. The committee, therefore, suggests if the NCLT bench fails to pass an order approving or rejecting a resolution plan within 30 days, and in case of delay, it will have to give reason in writing. As per the insolvency laws, once the panel of creditors approvees a resolution plan by a certain bidder, the same has to be approved (or rejected) by the NCLT for closure of the process. In order to curb unsolicited and continuous revision of resolution plans, which is another major reason for delay in the resolution process, the law committee recommends that insolvency regulations clearly lay down a mechanism for reviewing late submissions of (or revisions to) resolution plans.

Though insolvency regulations do not give a right to the applicants to unilaterally revise or improve resolution plans, adjudicating authorities, in order to ensure value maximisation, have allowed revisions to plans submitted if it is during the stipulated period and a plan has not yet been approved by the CoC. The panel also suggested that the insolvency regulator should issue guidelines providing the standard of conduct of the Committee of Creditors (CoC), which has critical commercial decision-making powers under the insolvency laws. It said instances of improper conduct by members of CoCs, which led to delay and depletion of value of assets.

Resolution plan

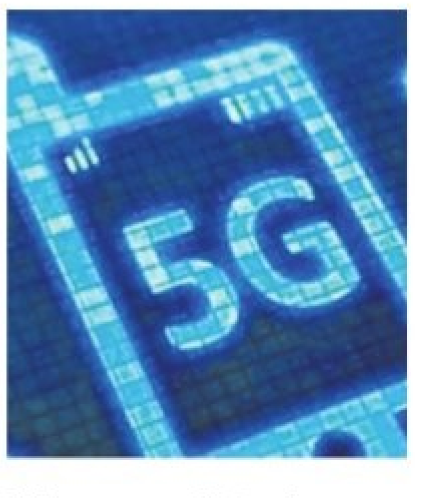
Panel suggests if the NCLT bench fails to pass an order approving or rejecting a resolution plan within 30 days, for any delay, it will have to give reason in writing

The panel also recommended inclusion of a section in the regulations that makes it mandatory for the liquidator to consult with Stakeholders Consultation Committee so that the latter is able to provide commercial inputs on the functions of the liquidator as well as conduct oversight over the liquidator.

5G auction to increase telcos' debt: Analysts

ICRA predicts participation in the auction to be about ₹1.0-1.1L cr, in which upfront payment is likely to be ₹10K cr

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi



ANALYSTS believe that the upcoming 5G spectrum auction, which was cleared by the Union Cabinet on Wednesday, will increase the debt of telecom operators as the Department of Telecom (DoT) has not reduced the reserve price of 5G spectrum.

According to the rating agency ICRA, while the upfront payment is likely to remain low, the total debt on the industry will increase, which is likely to keep the debt metrics subdued. It said debt continues to remain a vulnerable point for the industry. "TRAI has come out with recommendations of relaxed payment terms, which allow telcos to pay in 20 installments, thus ensuring very low upfront payment. ICRA assumes the participation in the upcoming auction to be around ₹1.0-1.1 lakh crore, in which the upfront payment is likely to be close to ₹10,000 crore only," said Ankit Jain, vice -president and sector head, Corporate Ratings, ICRA. "Adding this to the existing payments, the industry needs to shelve out ₹17,000 crore annually towards spectrum installments, till the moratorium ends."

ICRA expects industry debt levels to increase to nearly ₹5.7 lakh crore as of March 31, 2023, before moderating to ₹5.3 lakh crore as of March 31, 2025. "Telcos have been focusing on deleveraging: Bharti Airtel recently concluded its rights issue of ₹.21,000 crore and collected 25% as upfront payment, while Vodafone Idea is also scouting for a fundraiser. However, addition of deferred liabilities continues to keep the debt levels elevated," said Jain. According to the DoT, the auction will be held on July 27 for spectrums in various low (600 MHz, 700 MHz, 800 MHz, 900 MHz, 1800 MHz, 2100 MHz, 2300 MHz), mid (3300 MHz) and high (26 GHz) frequency bands with a validity period of 20 years. The Cabinet also decided to set up and develop the private 5G captive networks as it will spur a new wave of innovations in Industry 4.0 applications. The decision of the government was hailed by the industry players. Satcom Industry Association of India (SIA) said, "SIA-India appreciates DoT's proposal based on the international best practices to exclude the ka-Band [27.5 –28.5 GHz] spectrum for 5G/IMT auctions." Peeyush Vaish, Partner and Telecom Sector Leader, Deloitte India, said, "Government has also announced auction of mm Wave band, which will not only help in unlocking the true potential of 5G, but will also help strategically manage costs for the operators."

Gold imports surge in May on revenge buying

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

GOLD imports jumped to over $6 bn in May from around $1.7bn a month ago as consumers splurged on Akshay Tritiya after the Covid imposed lockdown in 2021 and 2020 threw a wet blanket over the previous occasions. A drop in price from over $1935 an ounce in April to around $1845 also spurred the revenge buying.

However, trade sources and economists expect demand to rationalise amid high inflation. By quantity also, imports in May are estimated at 100-plus tonnes as against 28.5 tonnes in April. The preceding month saw elevated prices crimping demand because of the war in Europe. Dealers offered gold at a discount to the bank rate amid high prices and didn't place many orders for import. Surendra Mehta, national secretary, India Bullion & Jewellers Association (IBJA) expects imports in FY23 to be below the previous fiscal year's 868.5 tonnes. "High price inflation could impact gold jewellery demand as consumers would prefer to conserve cash and postpone purchases," Mehta said.

Gold's share in total imports for May stood at 7.72% as against 2.78% in April, which was widened the country's merchandise trade deficit.

"The mild sequential dip in non-oil exports amid a sharp jump in gold imports widened India's merchandise trade deficit to a massive $24 billion in May 2022," said Aditi Nayar, Chief Economist at ICRA. "Based on the expectation that gold imports may reduce after the Akshaya Tritiya season, the trade deficit may demonstrate some moderation in the current month." Debajit Saha, lead analyst, precious metals, Refinitiv, said, "India's gold imports in May jumped 677% from a year ago to 104 tonnes amid price corrections. Demand for gold increased in May owning to retail consumers' rise in spends at jewellery shops to purchase gold (especially during Akshaya Tritiya). Also the 'average' price declined to $1845 an ounce in May from over $1935 in April. Dealers replenished their stocks. The demand for gold in India is expected to remain steady and drop below 750 tonnes in the current financial year."

Gig economy expands in Tier 2, Tier 3 cities

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @NewDelhi

CITY-specific data by gig marketplace Taskmo indicates that Gig economy is gaining foothold in Tier 2 and Tier 3 markets.

While cities such as Hyderabad (45%), Mumbai (45.45%), Delhi (32%), Bangalore (25%), and Chennai (23.4%) saw maximum growth, demand across Tier 2 cities such as Indore (59%), Bhopal (22.4%) and Pune (20%) were almost at par with the metros. This comes as companies are expanding their geographical footprint beyond metros by setting up secondary offices in smaller towns.

Amid rising attrition and challenge, many IT companies are reportedly planning on opening centres in small towns. For instance, Infosys has recently said that it is now opening up centres in Coimbatore, Vizag, Kolkata and Noida.

According to the Taskmo Gig Index, other cities such as Coimbatore and Mysore noted hiring demand of 17% and 16% respectively.

Across Tier 3 markets as well, Shivamogga (10%), Vadodara (11.11%), and Hubballi (11.11%) have shown moderate hiring demand for gig workers.

Recruiters, according to the portal, are also going the extra mile to attract workers from smaller cities through a tech-driven approach, providing multi-language support, job tracking and monitoring solutions, as well as ease of payments.

Prashant Janadri, Co-Founder, Taskmo said, Gig is the newest trend in the employment market and today we see its expansion across each and every industry in the country.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ELECTRIC two-wheeler maker Ather Energy is planning to set up a new manufacturing facility and it is in talks with several state governments for the same.

According to industry sources, the Hero Motocorp backed company is in talks with the state governments of Andhra Pradesh, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Telangana and Karnataka. The proposed facility, which will be its third, is likely to have an annual capacity of about 15 lakh units.

Ather has a plant in Hosur, Tamil Nadu, with a current capacity of 1.2 lakh units per annum. This will go up to 4 lakh units per year with the coming up of a new facility in Hosur, which is expected to be functional later this year.

Last month, the company had announced raising $128 million led by National Investment and Infrastructure Fund (NIIF), the Indian government's sovereign wealth fund, and Hero MotoCorp, an early investor in Ather Energy, which holds nearly a 35% stake in the EV firm. The fund, according to the company, will be used in expanding its capacity, reach and research & development.

The sources said the company is in the last leg of negotiations and is likely to finalise the location within the next month for its upcoming facility. Ather is looking at around 100 acres of land parcel to build its new facility.

Ather, which sells two electric scooters - the 450X and the 450 Plus-reported its highest-ever monthly sales of 3,807 units in May. During the month, EV sales at large were impacted by fire explosion incidents throughout the country, according to industry experts. Despite these incidents, new age and traditional two-wheeler players are investing big money in capacity expansion as demand for e-scooters is expected to grow at a very fast pace.

CSR portal to aid effective management of projects

MONIKA YADAV @ Mumbai

WITH the launch of National CSR Exchange Portal, more than 30,000 companies, which come under the purview of corporate social responsibility (CSR) as per the companies act, will be able to manage their CSR projects efficiently and effectively.

The portal will bring transparency in CSR activities, as it will be easier for the companies to track implementation of the projects. Also, it will facilitate fundraising by non-government organisations (NGOs) for social development projects. The portal was launched on June 7 by the Finance and Corporate Affairs Minister Nirmala Sitharaman as part of Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav, an initiative of the government to celebrate and commemorate 75 years of independence. "Companies don't know how to approach for CSR activities. The portal will bring both corporates and implementing agencies on one platform. This will lead to better coordination and more transparency in executing CSR projects," a government source said. Earlier, corporates had to pay registration fee on BSE Samman portal to register themselves. Due to this additional charge, it couldn't elicit interest from corporates and the portal failed to take off. It's completely free on CSR Exchange Portal, which will aid CSR activities, the source said.

Also, there are many firms, which don't fall under the ambit of CSR but are willing to engage in CSR activities. The portal will help them identitfying NGOs with whom they can partner.

Hardik to lead India in Ireland, Tripathi gets call-up

Indian Premier League winning captain Hardik Pandya was named skipper of the Indian team for the two-match T20I series against Ireland in Dublin on June 26 and 28. Rahul Tripathi was rewarded for his stellar batting during the IPL for Sunrisers Hyderabad with a maiden call-up. After being left out of the South Africa series, Sanju Samson, too, is back in the mix. Bhuvneshwar Kumar has been named vice-captain.

NEARING 90m, NEERAJ AIMS BIG

After a national record effort in Finland, Olympic champion focusses on training & technique to hit magical mark

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

THE conditions were near-perfect in Turku. Tokyo 2020 Olympic champion Neeraj Chopra stood confidently on the track and took aim towards the season. He strode to the throwing mark in his typical style — seven steps to crossover, threw the javelin and half-rolled. In the second attempt, the javelin flew to a distance of 89.30m — a personal best and also a national record at the Paavo Nurmi Games in Turku on Tuesday. That mark was good enough for a silver medal.

The competition was strong as well. Most of the top throwers competed. But for Neeraj, it's just a teaser to bigger and better things this year. The 90m-mark is just 70cm away.

Neeraj felt the distance of 89.30m was not something unexpected. His progression, too, lends weight to his words. During the 2018 Asian Games in Jakarta, he broke the 88m mark with an 88.06m effort. That was before his elbow injury and close association with coach and bio mechanic expert Klaus Bartonietz. On his return after injury (he missed the entire 2019 season) in January 2020, he threw 87.86m in South Africa and qualified for Olympics. He started to train with Bartonietz and after a forced Covid break, he threw 88.07m, a personal best, at the beginning of the 2021 season. "Since 2018, I had a feeling that 90m throw is possible," he said through voice notes. "Which particular day it will happen? The day I shall be able to throw in the correct direction and in the precise angle, that day I shall be able to achieve it. It's not that I'm not expecting it."

Neeraj felt that the best part was that he could better his own mark. "Personal best means I have done better than what I had done earlier. And that's the target of every athlete. To do better than his previous best."

It had been more than ten months since he had hurled the spear in a competition. For an athlete, it's considered a long break. Getting into competition too has its own challenges. After an Olympic gold, maintaining high standards would always be challenging. For Neeraj and his team, a throw around the 86m mark would have been considered a very good start. But 89.30m definitely lights up the season with World Championships and Commonwealth Games in quick succession next month. Like his team says, 'it's a satisfying start'. Turku over, Neeraj and his team were heading to Kuortane (also in Finland) on Wednesday for the next event, wh on June 18.

Neeraj sounded happy and relieved too, especially for doing well after a 10-month break from competition. "I had a nice feeling to get back into competition. Ten months after the Olympics is quite a long time," said the 24-year-old. His sole objective was to start on a good note. "We were trying to implement whatever we were focussing on during training, especially technique. Even while throwing, I needed to keep that in mind," said Neeraj. "Effort was fine, but the angle of the throw was going inside (javelin drifted towards the left after throwing)." Neeraj is hopeful of good results in the days to come. "This performance will give me more confidence for the entire season and a belief that I can do better. Now I have to focus on the technique and training and throw well."

Mantris magic in Bengaluru

While Mumbai asserted their dominance, Madhya Pradesh tested Bengal on Day Two of the Ranji Trophy semifinals in Bengaluru. Here is a wrap..

HARDIK STEPS UP

Wicket-keeper batter Hardik Tamore cracked 115 to propel Mumbai to 393 in their first innings against Uttar Pradesh. In reply, Uttar Pradesh were reeling at 25/2 two at stumps, having lost opener Samarth Singh (0) and Priyam Garg (5) early. While the first day belonged to Yashasvi Jaiswal, who had hammered his second first-class ton, it was Tamore's show on Wednesday. Tamore, who resumed on unbeaten 51, anchored the innings after the Mumbai began from their overnight score of 260/5. He forged a 113-run stand with Shams Mulani for the sixth wicket before Karan Sharma dismissed the latter.

Brief scores: Mumbai 393 all out in 140.4 ovs (Tamore 115, Jaiswal 100, Karan 4/46) vs UP 25/2 in 12 ovs.

HIMANSHU SHINES

After Himanshu Mantri's 327-ball 165, Kumar Kartikeya's early breakthroughs put Madhya Pradesh on front foot against Bengal in Alur. Bengal were 0/2, and went down further to 54/5. But Manoj Tiwary (84 batting) and Shahbaz Ahmed (72 batting) put up an unbeaten 143-run stand for the sixth wicket to take Bengal to 197/5 at the end of day's play. After Kartikeya took two wickets in the first over of the innings, Puneet Datey dismissed Abhimanyu Easwaran and Abishek Porel cheaply. However, the Tiwary-Ahmed duo ensured they did not lose any further wickets.

Brief scores: Madhya Pradesh 341 in 105.3 ovs (Himanshu 165; Mukesh 4/66) vs Bengal 197/5 in 66 ovs (Tiwary 84 n.o, Ahmed 72 n.o; Datey 2/44).

Domestic contracts possible after IPL riches

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

IN the midst of all the head-spinning money that the IPL media rights threw up over the course of three days, as everyone eagerly waited for some official communication from the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI), something entirely different came up. On a day where the television and digital rights were sold for record sum, for a board that has been criticised in the past for not showing sensitivity, BCCI's reaction was rather muted. Instead, the board in a statement announced their decision to increase the pension scheme for former cricketers and umpires. At a time where some of the past cricketers are struggling to meet their needs and a couple of them even needing a helping hand for medical expenses, as per the revised pension hike, they are set to earn anywhere between ₹30,000 to ₹70,000 based on their experience.

Player welfare to be in focus

It was a move that was warmly received but one should not forget that just a year ago, active domestic cricketers and umpires — in the absence of the Ranji Trophy — were exploring ways to support their families during pandemic.

Although domestic cricketers subsequently received a pay-hike, the umpires, match-officials and scorers were left in the lurch without any compensation package. Even now as the IPL ecosystem gets bigger by each new deal, the gulf between those who play only domestic cricket and the T20 league only continues to widen.

The players, who happen to be the protagonists of the content they have sold for ₹48,390.5 crore, will continue to receive only ₹900 crore of it. And for the domestic cricketers, who don't have an IPL contract, these numbers are not going to make any difference to their lives. Just for the record, they are the ones who keep the Indian cricket healthy on the field, preparing players to play in the world stage. But despite Sourav Ganguly promising central contracts for the domestic cricketers on the day he took charge as BCCI president in 2019, domestic cricketers continue to be neglected. Even with the pay hike, guaranteed income is still a far-fetched reality for hundreds of professional cricketers. Ditto with the umpires, match-officials and scorers, who make the Indian cricket ecosystem.

With all the resources (read currency) in the world, it is high-time the BCCI introduces a central contract system. If Pakistan Cricket Board, which pales in comparison when it comes to revenue generated, could afford central contracts to its domestic cricketers, surely it can't be beyond BCCI's reach.

That said, there was some refreshing to see in the letter addressed to state units by the BCCI secretary Jay Shah. In that letter, accessed by this daily, Shah outlined the importance of using the money earned through the media rights in strengthening the age-group and grass-root cricket. Similarly, Shah emphasised the need to "ensure that our biggest stakeholder — 'the cricket fan' is well looked after and enjoys high quality cricket in world-class facilities."

US REPORTS 400 CRASHES OF SELF TECH VEHICLES

Tesla accounted for 70 per cent of the 392 mishaps

AUTO

DETROIT: Automakers reported nearly 400 crashes of vehicles with partially automated driver-assist systems, including 273 involving Teslas, according to statistics released by US safety regulators on Wednesday.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration cautioned against using the numbers to compare automakers, saying it didn't weight them by the number of vehicles from each manufacturer that use the systems, or how many miles those vehicles traveled.

Automakers reported crashes from July of last year through May 15 under an order from the agency, which is examining such crashes broadly for the first time.

"As we gather more data, NHTSA will be able to better identify any emerging risks or trends and learn more about how these technologies are performing in the real world," said Steven Cliff, the agency's administrator.

Tesla's crashes happened while vehicles were using Autopilot, "Full Self-Driving," Traffic Aware Cruise Control, or other driver-assist systems that have some control over speed and steering. The company has about 830,000 vehicles with the systems on the road.

The next closest of a dozen automakers that reported crashes was Honda, with 90, but Honda says it has about six million vehicles on US roads with such systems. Subaru was next with 10, and all other automakers reported five or fewer.

In a June 2021 order, NHTSA told more than 100 automakers and automated vehicle tech companies to report serious crashes within one day of learning about them and to disclose less-serious crashes by the 15th day of the following month. The agency is assessing how the systems perform and whether new regulations may be needed.

NHTSA also said that five people were killed in the crashes involving driver-assist systems, and six were seriously hurt. Tesla's crash number also may be high because uses telematics to monitor its vehicles and get real-time crash reports.

WHAT DOES NHTSA SAYS

Manufacturers were not required to report how many vehicles they have on the road that have the systems, nor did they have to report how far those vehicles traveled, or when the systems are in use, NHTSA said. At present, those numbers aren't quantifiable, an agency official said. However, NHTSA may seek such information later. In the meantime, the new data has enabled it to find out about crashes much faster than before. At present, it is using the crash data to look for trends and discuss them with the companies, the agency said. NHTSA has used the data to seek a recall, open investigations.

Heat waves cause climate anxiety

ENVIRONMENT

PORTLAND: Oregon health officials say the impacts of climate change, including more devastating wildfires, heat waves, drought and poor air quality, are fueling "climate anxiety" among young people. Their findings have been published in a report that highlights youth feelings of distress, anger and frustration about perceived adult and government inaction.

In a briefing on Tuesday hosted by the Oregon Health Authority, three young people spoke about how climate change has affected their mental health.

High school student Mira Saturen expressed the terror she felt when the Almeda Fire swept through the area near her hometown of Ashland in southwestern Oregon in September of 2020. The blaze destroyed more than 2,500 homes.

Governor Kate Brown in March 2020 directed OHA to study the effects of climate change on youth mental health. In its report, the agency says its research was "designed to center the voices of youth, especially tribal youth and youth of color in Oregon."

The report underlines that marginalized communities are more likely to experience adverse health effects from climate change, and notes that "emerging research is showing similar disproportionate burdens in terms of mental health." Climate change and the coronavirus pandemic have further exacerbated an already alarming youth mental health crisis. The number of high school students reporting persistent feelings of sadness or hopelessness increased by 40% from 2009 to 2019, according to a Surgeon General's Advisory issued in December. Citing national surveys, the same advisory noted that suicide rates among young people ages 10-24 increased by 57% between 2007 and 2018.

WOOF WOOF! YOGA GETS 'PAWSITIVE' TWIST

'Doga' is the hottest rage among pawrents in Bengaluru; as humans unwind through yoga, their animals are no less enthusiastic to have some bonding time with their hoomans

ANILA KURIAN

IMAGINE a scenario: couples yoga, but for pets where you and your pet both perform yoga poses. Sounds pretty unrealistic, right? Not anymore, as pawrents are now looking to bond with their pets through yoga. Taking your pet to the park, cafe or swimming is so last year.

With International Day of Yoga around the corner, a few pet groups in the city are putting together events for pawrents or those who love pets to come to join them to unwind through doga (yoga with dogs). From downward dog to cow stretch and child's pose, hoomans see their furry companions and mirror them.

Starting this Sunday is a fun event organised by Switch Wellness in Sadashivanagar, which is a yoga event for both people and pets alike. Managing director Abhishek Chatterjee says, "We have been doing practice sessions with some of our staff and volunteers to see how everything will go on Sunday. We've been doing some simple poses with the dogs and parents and we've seen that they are also getting in the spirit and joining in."

The initial plan was to have the event in an open space like Cubbon Park, but controlling the dogs might be a challenge. "We are looking at a participation of not more than 10 people and their pets, and we have dog handlers to help with the session as well in case we notice that the dogs aren't getting along well," he says, adding that yoga and Pilates trainer Sushma Sooda will be conducting the event, which is free of cost.

Co-founder Subhashree Madhavan of Pawga Pets Yoga hosted a session in Bengaluru last week. They have tied-up with Charlies Animal Rescue Centre to work with puppies as a way to find them new homes. She explains, "We are hosting a session with Justbe Resto Cafe on Tuesday, as part of International Day of Yoga, where people can come in for an hour-long session and work with puppies (20). Even though we haven't seen any adoptions take place yet, there have been a few fosterings that have taken place after the yoga session." Tickets are ₹1,199 for singles and ₹999 for those registering with a partner.

Working with animals who have their own mind is not an easy feat. But everyone who comes in is aware of the situation as well. "Thankfully, those who come in aren't scared of dogs, so even if they workout with you or just hang out on your yoga mat, the participants don't mind," she explains.

Ashrita Lokhande, a yoga instructor at ZenYogaShala, often works with pets during her sessions. She has 13 cats and three dogs who join her when she's working out at home. She says, "The best part about pet yoga is that you get to see how compassionate the parents are and how the pets will react with them. There's been more interest in yoga with pets especially after the pandemic as many of them have them at home now. Some pets are good props as well since you can use them when you're working out."

As Microsoft shuts Internet Explorer for good, millennials take a walk down memory lane and share their experiences with the first-ever internet browser

Error 404: Explorer not found

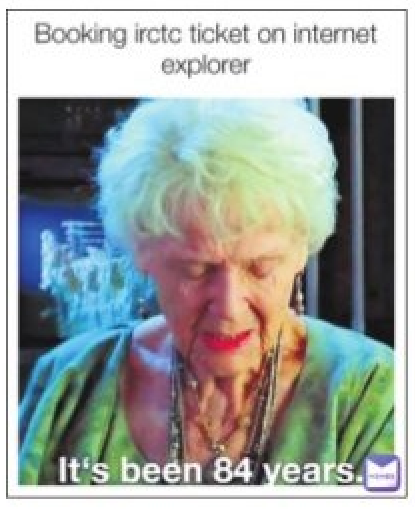
ISHRATH MUBEEN

(Clockwise) Priya Jain, Shashank, Sumaiya Zamindar and Chandan Raj

WEDNESDAY marked the end of an era with the first-ever internet browser, Internet Explorer, calling it quits. Launched by Microsoft in 1995, the announcement of its retirement came 27 years later.

Despite being infamous for its endless wait to load, the news came as a heartbreak to Priya Jain, a city-based entrepreneur. Even though she hasn't been using the browser for years now, Jain recalls that she and her classmates knew nothing but Internet Explorer during their school days. "When I was in Class 8, the browser was so new that we thought it was the highest form of technology we will ever have," she says.

But this browser is to us what Doordarshan was to our parents, adds Jain. "Most of us cannot relate to a time when TV screens used to read Rukawat ke liye khed hai (inconvenience is regretted) and a band of colours would appear on the screen that viewers would watch for hours. This is what we did with Internet Explorer, wait for it to load for hours. I think of a meme (see picture) from Titanic whenever I think of Internet Explorer," she says.



Like Jain, Chandan Raj says that the browser was his childhood buddy. An introvert by nature, Raj would spend most of the time on his desktop. "My first memory of the browser is the weird dial-up connection music. The only search engines we had back in the '90s were Yahoo and MSN. I would mostly use the browser to download songs for free," says the businessman.

Raj says he and those who owned a computer with access to the internet, felt elite. "We would divide school projects — one of us would download texts, the other would save pictures, and others would download songs — all with Internet Explorer. We'd save everything on pen drives (a luxury those days) to take printouts from the nearest cyber cafes," he recalls.

Shashank R, a city-based trader, took quite some time to get used to other browsers. "Opera, Firefox or Chrome, no matter which browser I wanted to open, I would click on Internet Explorer by default. But a core memory is that I used it to download other browsers," he says.

Sumaiya Zamindar, a home-baker, recalls being fascinated with baking games as a child. "I remember wanting to bake a cake online. I would patiently wait for the internet connection to set up and then launch Explorer. I would let the game load for 15 minutes, come back and play for five minutes," says Zamindar, adding that memories of Internet Explorer remind her of times much simpler.

WRITE AND WRONG

The play A Judgement Error?? — an English translation of a Bengali script — is a medical drama which revolves around a young girl

EXPRESS FEATURES

Susanto Banerjee

A scene from the play

ALL the world's a stage,' said Shakespeare once upon a time. He compared life to a drama, and we are mere actors who act out our lives. That hasn't stopped theatre buffs from enjoying a good play. A Judgement Error?? is one such play to look forward to, which is going to be performed at Bangalore International Centre, Domlur, on June 19. The screenplay is an English translation of a Bengali script written by Nirup Mitra, set in the context of a nursing home and builds on a surgery, opening up the medical profession for deep introspection. It has a storyline centred around a young girl whose life changes after certain decisions taken by an experienced surgeon.

Medical dramas have become one of the most binge-watched genres on television because of the thrill and excitement, but on the stage, it's a lot more subtle and sensitive. "The play is set in a nursing home and everything that happens within. There is a whole lot of analysis and deliberation happening after one particular incident," explains Susanto Banerjee, director of the play.

A Judgement Error?? has been staged previously and has received critical acclaim. "I am glad that this has been watched by various sections of society. After the play, many stories have come to us saying they could relate to incidents narrated," explains Banerjee, the founder and director of Ventures, who has acted in many plays in Kolkata and thereafter in Bengaluru. Hailing from Kolkata, Banerjee wanted to take the play outside Bengaluru but the pandemic has been a spoilsport in the plan.

Sometimes a story loses its essence when it's translated from its language of origin, however, Banerjee promises that he handpicked the story because of its global nature and for the fact that it's geographically agnostic. "This is a story that people would relate to across the globe. These are the judgments and the question is how do you take the judgement and what is the result that you consider," he says.

Explaining some of the details about the play, Banerjee adds one of the beauties of the play is that it is open-ended. "We don't take a side, we leave it to the audience to make a decision. We leave it in a way that will have some food for thought," says Banerjee,

CAUSES

Apart from genetic factors, several environmental and lifestyle-related factors contribute to premature ageing. They are:

EXPOSURE TO SUN, TANNING AND ENVIRONMENT
High exposure to the sun's UV rays causes damage to skin cells, resulting in wrinkles and dehydration. Various pollutants in the environment also cause sunspots and skin damage.

STRESS
Increased stress levels result in inflammation and hormonal imbalance.

SMOKING AND ALCOHOL
Smoking results in oxidative stress. Alcohol, when consumed excessively dehydrates the body resulting in wrinkled skin.

DIET
Unhealthy diets which include excess sugar, oils and refined carbohydrates and can lead to negative effects on the skin.

SLEEP PATTERNS
Sleep is important as it allows the body to regenerate cells. Poor sleep has several ill effects on health.

AGEING WITH GRACE

Several factors accelerate ageing. Read on for some tips to prolong it and to look timeless

DR AKANKSHA SINGH GAUTAM

AGEING is an inevitable process accompanied by several physical, psychological and emotional changes. Our bodies and minds go through several transitions with time. For some, these changes occur much earlier than usual and this phenomenon is known as premature ageing. Not very uncommon, this occurs due to a combination of factors which include both genetics and lifestyle. While premature ageing due to genetic factors is termed intrinsic or chronological ageing, environmental or behavioural factors make it extrinsic ageing. When a person ages prematurely, their chronological age is more than their biological one.

Signs of premature ageing

Sunspots: Also called age spots, these are dark or hyper-pigmented spots on the skin that are caused due to prolonged exposure to the sun, and are commonly present on the face, back of the hands, chest and back.

Dull and listless skin: As the production of collagen (a protein) is reduced, (typically after the age of 30) it causes your skin to lose its suppleness. Fine lines and wrinkles appear on the skin slowly.

Dry and itchy skin: After the age of 40, your skin produces less oil leaving it dry and itchy. Further, the skin also becomes thin (leading to flaking) and prone to bruising.

Gaunt Hands: As skin becomes thin, the veins become more prominent. This is first observed in the hands.

Puffy eyes and crow's feet: The delicate area below the eyes is the most susceptible to ageing. With reduced amount of collagen, the skin under your eyes tends to become puffy. Wrinkles spreading out from this are called crow's feet.

Reversing premature ageing

Since most of the lifestyle factors responsible for premature ageing can be rectified, premature ageing can be controlled to a large extent. The first step is to follow a healthy lifestyle and aim for a work-life balance. Sleep well and on time so that your body is recharged the next day. Follow a healthy diet by consuming fresh fruits, vegetables and foods rich in nutrients like minerals, vitamins and antioxidants. Avoid excess junk food and alcohol. Quit smoking and it is sure to make a big difference. Follow an exercise routine so that your body is energized and active.

Avoid exposure to the sun and wear a scarf or hat and use an effective sunscreen/ moisturiser.

Follow a skincare regime of 'cleanse, moisturise, protect and treat' regularly. Use skincare products that are replete with ingredients like retinoids, peptides and antioxidants. Consider in-clinic treatments like light chemical peels, micro-needling, lasers to reverse sun damage, anti-wrinkle injections to correct fine lines and wrinkles and dermal fillers to restore volume loss.

WHO considers renaming monkeypox virus to tackle stigma, racism

The World Health Organisation (WHO) is considering changing the name of the monkeypox virus to tackle the stigma and racism associated with it. The organisation is "working with partners and experts from around the world on changing the name of monkeypox virus, its clades and the disease it causes," said Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, the WHO's director general. Monkeypox belongs to the orthopoxvirus genus in the family poxviridae. The orthopoxvirus genus also includes variola virus (which causes smallpox), vaccinia virus (used in the smallpox vaccine), and cowpox virus. However, the actual animal source of monkeypox, which has been found in a wide variety of mammals, remains unknown. The WHO aims to consult experts in orthopoxviruses on more appropriate names. The move comes after 30 scientists from 11 countries in a preprint posted on virological.org pushed the need to cut 'discriminatory' language used to differentiate monkeypox virus clades 'West Africa and Congo Basin' and advocated renaming the virus. —IANS

Brain temp goes up to 40° C: Study

Average human brain temperature is 38.5 degrees Celsius, with deeper brain regions often exceeding 40 degrees Celsius, particularly in women during the daytime, finds a study.

Normal human brain temperature varies much more than previously thought, and this could be a sign of healthy brain function, said researchers at the Medical Research Council (MRC) Laboratory for Molecular Biology, in the UK who produced the first 4D map of healthy human brain temperature.

The map overturns several previous assumptions and shows the extent to which brain temperature varies by region, age, sex, and time of day. These findings challenge the belief that human brain and body temperature are the same.

The research, published in the journal Brain, included analysis of data from patients with traumatic brain injury, showing that the presence of daily brain temperature cycles strongly correlates with survival. These findings could be used to improve understanding, prognosis, and treatment of brain injury.

"The most surprising finding is that the healthy human brain can reach temperatures that would be diagnosed as fever anywhere else in the body. Such temperatures have been measured in people with brain injuries in the past, but had been assumed to result from the injury," said Dr John O'Neill, Group Leader, MRC Lab. —IANS

Ninety per cent of all lung cancer deaths in men and 80 per cent in women are caused by smoking

DR SUNIL KUMAR K

India is the second largest consumer and producer of tobacco. Use of tobacco in any form such as smoking, khaini, gutkha, betel quid with tobacco and zarda poses a major risk factor for chronic diseases, including cancer, lung disease, cardiovascular disease and stroke. Most people start smoking when they are teenagers. And the number has increased considerably over the last few years.

Hazards of smoking

It is well-known that smoking causes cancer, heart disease, stroke, lung diseases, diabetes, and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), which includes emphysema and chronic bronchitis. It can lead to disease and disability and damage the organs over time. Ninety per cent of all lung cancer deaths in men and 80 per cent in women are caused by smoking.

Quitting

Cigarettes and tobacco contain nicotine which is an addictive. When nicotine hits the brain, it prompts the brain to release adrenaline, and that creates a buzz of pleasure and energy for a short time. A feel-good hormone dopamine is released when you smoke. When it fades, your body longs for the excitement. This leads to frequent smoking and later turns into an addiction. Studies show that smoking is most likely to become a habit during teen years. The younger you smoke, the more likely you are to become addicted to nicotine. Try these if you're trying to quit smoking:

Nicotine Replacement Therapy : It is a medically-approved way to treat people with tobacco use disorder by taking nicotine by means other than tobacco. It comes in different forms such as nicotine patch, gum, lozenges, and nasal spray.

Relaxation techniques: People smoke when stressed. Fighting against a tobacco craving can itself be stressful. Deep breathing, muscle relaxation, yoga, massage or listening to music can help.

Seek help: It is okay to seek help from a professional that provides support. It is a good idea to connect with family, friend or support group for help to resist a tobacco craving.

Exercise: Being physically active can help distract you from tobacco cravings. When the idea of smoking strikes you, go for a walk or jog.

Chikkannal

Directed by Anil Kumar and backed by DN Cinemas, this will be a sequel to the 2014 comedy-drama Adhyaksha

CHIKKANNA'S UPADHYAKSHA GOES ON FLOORS

A SHARADHAA

POPULAR comedian Chikkanna is set to turn hero with Upadhyaksha. Produced by Umapathy S, the project will be helmed by Anil Kumar, who previously directed Kaaneyadavara Bagge Prakatane, and the yet-to-be-released Dheeren Ramkumar-starrer Shiva 143.

Confirming the news to CE, producer Umapathy told us that the film will go on floors from July 17. Produced by Smitha N, the film will be shot at a single stretch in Mysuru, and a few crucial portions will be filmed in Bengaluru too.

In an earlier interview, Chikkanna revealed that Upadhyaksha would stick to his strength of comedy.

The family comedy entertainer will be a sequel to Adhyaksha (2014) and the producer mentioned that audiences will not miss the essence of comedy that people enjoy watching from Chikkanna. "We are not specifically grooming Chikkanna as a hero. His sense of comedy will be the highlight of the film. The script is the hero for us," he says.

While Arjun Janya is composing the music for Upadhyaksha, Shekar Chandru and KM Prakash will take care of cinematography and editing, respectively.

Malaika Vasupal

Hitler-fame Malaika Vasupal to make her silver screen debut with Upadhyaksha

Malaika Vasupal is the latest to join the likes of Radhika Pandit, Rachita Ram, and Aditi Pradhudeva in the list of actors who made their transition from TV serials to the big screen. Malaika, who has become a household name with the popular serial 'Hitler', is set to make her debut opposite Chikkanna in Anil Kumar's Upadhyaksha. The film also stars Ravi Shankar, Veena Sundar, and Sadhu Kokila. Malaika, who will now be juggling between her serial and this film, is expected to join the film's shoot in Mysuru.

Pre-production for Sindhura Lakhsmana begins

THE historical film, produced by Umapathy S, is written by Puneeth Rudranag and his team

CEFEATURES

> My priority is getting the storyboard ready. Once the bound script is through for the film, I will decide how to go about the project
>
> Umapathy S, producer

PRODUCER Umapathy S, who bankrolled Darshan's Roberrt, is currently backing Chikkanna's Upadhyaksha. Meanwhile, the producer is also kickstarting the pre-production works of the historical project, Sindhura Lakshmana. The project has been the talk of the town for a while now, and finally, the scripting process of the film has begun.

The producer confirmed to CE that they will first get the storyboard ready for the project. He also revealed that Puneeth Rudranag and the team are currently working on the script. Puneeth has earlier worked in Prashanth Neel's Ugramm and KGF Chapter 1.

Umapathy says Sindhura Lakshmana needs exhaustive research work as it is a historical fiction based on a particular community. "My priority is getting the storyboard ready. Once the bound script is through for the film, I will decide how to go about the project," he says.

The music director, who has scored music for Harikathe Alla Girikathe says that teaming up with a multifaceted personality like Rishab Shetty is in itself a joy.

It is difficult to score music for comedy films: Vasuki Vaibhav

CE FEATURES

HARIKATHE Alla Girikathe will reunite the composer-filmmaker duo of Vasuki Vaibhav and Rishab Shetty for the first time since Sarkari Hi. Pra Shale. The comic caper helmed by Karan Ananth and Anirudh Mahesh has Rishab not just starring in it but also doubling up as the executive producer for Sandesh Production.

Vasuki, who has known Rishab right from his Kirik Party days, feels that working with such a multifaceted personality is itself a joy. "Apart from Rishab's unique directorial and acting skills, he is a person who often lights up the atmosphere and has everyone in splits. That flavour reflects in this film too," says Vasuki ahead of the film's release on June 23. "In the case of HKGK, I joined the team only after the shooting was wrapped up. This was a different experience too," he adds.

The film's trailer was released on Tuesday, and one of the highlights was definitely the soundtrack by Vasuki Vaibhave, The album has lyrics written by Yogaraj Bhat, Satya Prakash, Trilok Vikram, and Kalyan. The two singles from the film -- Jr. Monalisa and Bawarachi have become popular tracks.

Known to bring a strong emotional connection to his music, Vasuki shares that it is difficult to score music for comedy subjects. "Unlike emotional or action films, you can't just fill in music for comedy plots. That way HKGK was a challenge to me. However, inputs from the directors helped me do justice to the story. It was also a challenge to compose music for a film, which has already been shot. I had to frame the songs according to the visuals, and it was a different experience," he adds.

Vasuki shares his favourite song from HKGK is the climax track. "The song sung by Tamil singer Pradeep Kumar is very close to my heart," he says.

Known for films like Ondalla Eradalla, Churi Katte, French Biriyani, and Badava Rascal, Vasuki believes that it is the variety in his discography that helped him become versatile. "I feel content and happy with what is coming my way, and I'm glad people have opened their hearts to different genres," he signs off.

Nagabhushana and Priyanka Thimmesh

CE FEATURES

Seems like actor Nagabhushana is still to come out of the pandemic lockdown. Similar to his previous film, Ikkat, his upcoming film, Made in China, too was a special project. Director Preetham Tegginamane has helmed this 'virtually made' film that also stars Priyanka Thimmesh.

The cinematographer-turned-director wanted to try something unique in his first feature outing. He has picked up a subject on the lockdown and followed the experimental 'virtual' format. "I was inspired by the English film Searching, and also C U Soon made in Malayalam. Both these films were screen-based, and the entire narrative progresses through digital communication, which I thought was unique. I initially planned to make it as a short film. However, during the process of writing, we felt that this could be made into a full-length feature," says Preetham, who has earlier worked as the cinematographer in films like Ayogya and Ratna Manjari.

Talking about the thought behind the title, Preetham says, "According to the story, Nagabhushana plays a character residing in China, who is in constant communication with his pregnant wife (Priyanka Thimmesh). Also, there was a conspiracy theory that Corona was manufactured in China. Moreover, we felt that Made in China was a catchy title, and we decided to go with it."

The film is narrated through digital screens, and required extensive VFX work. So, what is it about Made in China that will bring the audience into the theatres? "This is something I am yet to experience with the audience. Secondly, we considered this for OTT, and we had brought this into our writing pattern. However, our producer felt that it should be experienced in the theatres," he says.

Backed by TR Chandrashekhar and Nanda Kishore for Crystal Paark Cinemas, Made in China also has Ashwin Rao Pallaki, Ravi Bhatt, and Aruna Balraj playing pivotal characters.

Aaditi Pohankar: Imtiaz Ali thought I was too pretty for SHE

CE FEATURES

WHEN Imtiaz Ali called Aaditi Pohankar for a meeting, she expected a romantic role. The actor is returning as Bhumi, the meek-constable-turned-undercover-agent, in the second season of Netflix's crime-thriller series SHE. She tells us how she first met the director. "He used to come to Prithvi Theatre frequently. I was doing plays there. It was a typical struggler story. I met him and asked for work," says Aaditi. "Later, I sent him a production reel."

She shot the reel on a "proper camera" and even took people to Goa for the shoot. "The video was about different moods of a woman in love, like melancholia, awaiting," she says. "When I asked Imtiaz whether he had seen it, he refused. I had to plead with him to watch it."

Aaditi was then called for a meeting with the director. "I did my own makeup and went there dressed-up like a doll," she says. "You are young now; you should be doing romantic roles, Imtiaz told me. I thought he was hinting towards such an opportunity. The character is older and not pretty; maybe this is not for you, he said. I was disappointed."

Imtiaz, however, asked Aaditi to come for an audition and look as messy as possible. "I gave a reading amidst the shambles of his office which was just being built. Later, I met his daughter and he introduced me to her saying, 'She is SHE'. Then, I didn't even know what the series was called. In hindsight, I realised what he meant."

Apart from SHE, Aaditi also essays a titular role in the MX Player series Aashram, where she plays a wrestler. As both series fall under the ambit of crime-thriller, we ask her what other kind of parts she is seeking. "Romance," says Aaditi. "I am tired of tying my hair up. Now, I want some roles where I get to flip it in a filmi style."

In SHE, Aaditi plays a constable who goes undercover as a prostitute in order to bust a drug racket in Mumbai. The series has a considerable number of intimate scenes but the actor says she didn't feel uncomfortable doing them. "Imtiaz believed I would sail through. He shifted my attention towards making sure that my co-actor is comfortable. I never thought of the scenes as intimate. I wanted the audience to focus on what is going into Bhumi's head, rather than what is happening to her body."

Asked if she has ever faced any casual sexism, as Bhumi does in the show, Aaditi says, "I will never face any sort of sexism because I give out a vibe that you cannot take my power. It's important to take charge of yourself."

Although Aaditi forayed into the world of cinema through the stage, she didn't think of acting as a career while growing up. Her parents, Sudhir and Shobha Pohankar, were both athletes. She too had the sports gene. Aaditi ran for the state of Maharashtra and even bagged medals in 100 and 200m races. A tragedy, however, changed her course.

"I lost my mother when I was 15. My coach too lost his three-year-old daughter around the same time. Devastated, we took a break from training. We started again but it didn't work. I had this urge to explore my inner self, to express how I was feeling. I started doing plays with Makarand Deshpande and realised I could get lost in the world of theatre," says Aaditi.

In 2014, while acting in Makarand's play Time Boy, she was spotted by the late director Nishikant Kamat. He offered her the Marathi film Lai Bhaari opposite Riteish Deshmukh. The film had a meagre budget of Rs 8 crore but ended up earning about Rs 35 crore at the box office. After that there was no stopping Aaditi. In 2017, she starred alongside Atharvaa in the Tamil film Gemini Ganeshanum Suruli Raajanum. She also appeared in several advertisements and was even directed by Shoojit Sircar.
